Hair Policy Ires Resident; Board Eyes Other Policies

City Manager George Loudder, left, and another city manager from the Panhandle area discuss rate increase requests received by many cities from Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. and General Telephone Co. Representatives from seven cities, including Canyon, met Monday to discuss the rate increase proposals.

A former Canyon School Board member criticized the current board Tuesday night for the school district's policy concerning long hair for boys.

Bill Davis, who served several years as a board member, blasted the school board for a policy which states that boys' hair length will not be below the shirt collar with sideburns not protruding below the ear lobe.

The school system dress code was just one of several policies reviewed by the administrators at Tuesday's meeting.

"Personally I don't go along with the dress code," Davis told the board. "Why legislate what a child wears to school?"

Board President Dudley Moore was quick to retort.

"Because it would be abused if we didn't," Moore said. "The courts are backing us on this."

Davis, passing his eyes from face to face of the board members, said "I know you all can't believe the way this is written. Some of your sons wear long hair."

Davis explained that his son had been turned away from the photographer's Tuesday when he had gone to have his picture taken for the high school annual.

"The photographer said he couldn't get his picture taken because of his hair," Davis said. "I think you ought to educate boys who have long hair even if they have long hair."

Long-haired boys can go to college, Davis pointed out.

"You're free to do what you want to do," he said, "so why can't we be free to do what we want to do?"

"You can go to another school," Moore retorted.

"But, what difference does it make if his hair is long?" Davis asked.

"We must draw the line somewhere," Moore said. "We, too, have to have rules. We feel they're necessary."

Board member Tom Keeling said he believes that a boy can be in style and still wear his hair to comply with the dress regulation.

"The main reason for the rule," said Board member Roscoe Richardson, "is to keep down the distraction of extra long hair."

Moore voiced a similar opinion.

"We have a responsibility to have a good learning atmosphere here," he said.

Moore said he hopes in two or three years styles will swing back to moderate hair lengths and that restrictive dress regulations will not be necessary.

And, that ended the discussion about long hair.

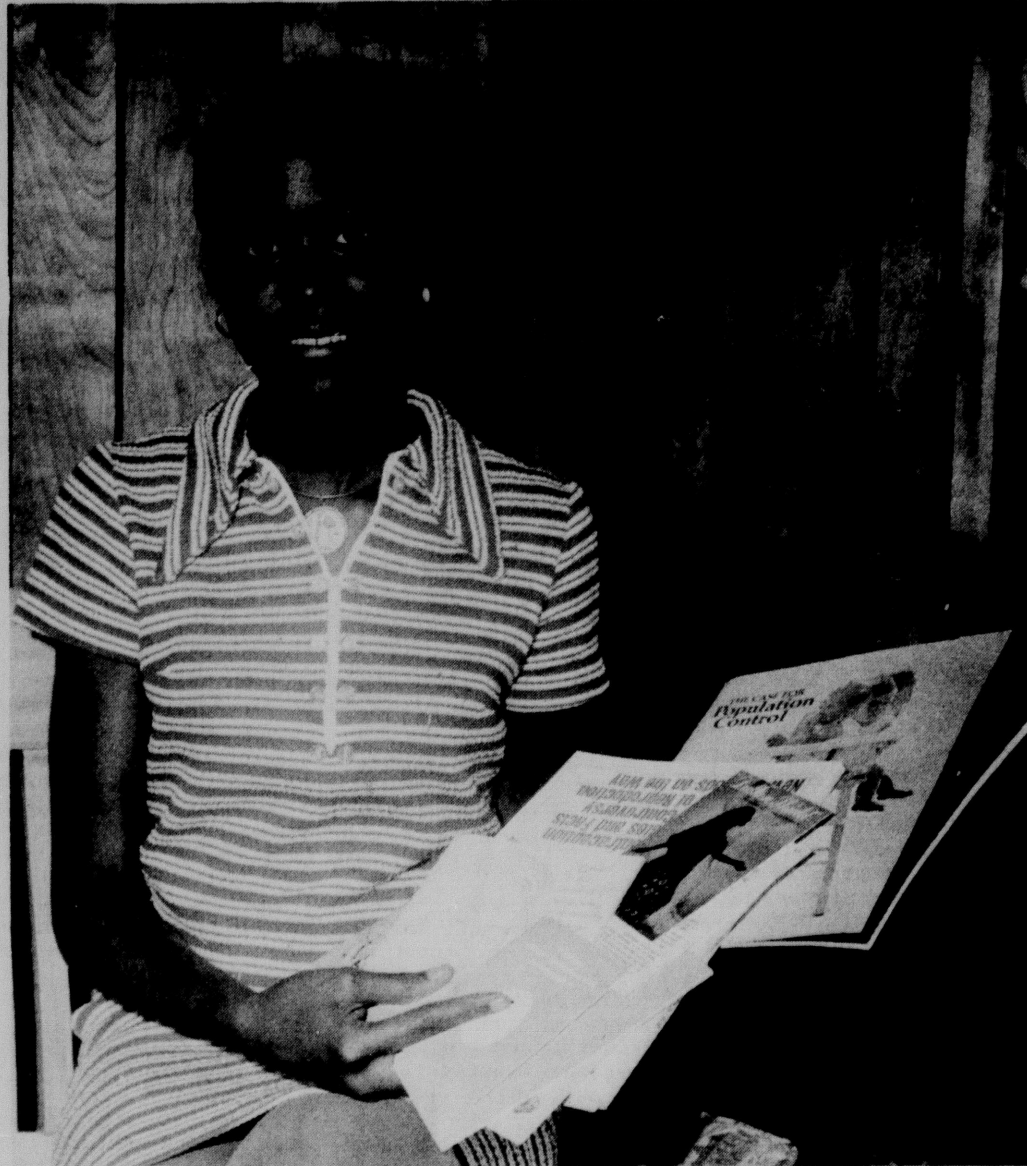

It didn't, however, end discussion about dress regulations for girls.

High School Principal John Sommer and junior high principal Dave Corley recommended that halter-type blouses be banned from the campuses.

The recommendation was accepted and incorporated in the dress regulations.

With the dress code out of the way, the board had only begun to make policy decisions.

Sommer told the board that (See HAIR, Page 6)

$1 Million Voted For Art Building

Construction of a new Fine Arts Building on the West Texas State University campus moved closer to reality Wednesday when regents committed $1 million in institutional building funds for the complex.

The board also let an $83,756 contract for improvements on the Nance Ranch and heard a warning from Regent Grady Hazlewood that the university had better get its money's worth on the ranch or the entire institution might suffer.

Commitment of the $1 million for a new FAB was conditioned on a committee being able to raise matching funds.

Regents also approved an $11,803,137 budget for the fiscal year beginning Sept. 1 and agreed to request more than $9 million in state appropriations for each year of the 1973-75 biennium.

The recent special session of the legislature appropriated $7,391,062 to the university for the next fiscal year.

In its request to the 1973 legislature, the university will ask for $9,024,918 for 1973-74 and $9,304,393 for the second year of the biennium.

Regents also approved a Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum request of $169,135 for fiscal 1974 and $161,570 for the following year. The legislature appropriated $146,400 for the 1973 fiscal year.

Regents noted that Governor Preston Smith vetoed $15,000 of the appropriation earmarked for the Nance Ranch project. WTSU President James P. Cornette said the improvement program on the ranch would not be materially affected.

The regents tabled plans for hiring a photographer and printer for next year's annual. Board Chairman Cloyce Box said he had had a number of complaints on the annual which he admitted might have stemmed from the fact that the printing is not being done in Amarillo.

Dr. T. Paige Carruth, vice president for student affairs, said there has been an increasing lack of interest in the annual. Many students do not even (See REGENTS, Page 6)

Phone Rate Hike Requests Discussed By Seven Cities

By CARROLL WILSON

Representatives of seven cities met together Monday afternoon here to discuss telephone service rate hike requests and decided there isn't much they can do collectively to fight the rate increases.

But, they were given some measure of optimism when Hereford City Manager Dudley Baine said his city council is ready to go to court over Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's rate hike request in that city.

Baine said a letter has been sent notifying the Bell system "that they're not entitled to a rate increase and that if they have other information they can pick the time and place to have a public hearing."

If the phone company wants to go to court over the rate hike, Hereford will oblige, Baine said. The Hereford city manager told the other six city representatives that "we'd be glad to be the guinea pigs if you want to sit back and wait."

Most of the other city representatives present had already been asked by Southwestern Bell or General Telephone for rate increases.

Canyon City Manager George Loudder chaired the meeting. Canyon has not yet been asked for a rate increase, but a usually reliable source told The News recently that a request for a 37 per cent hike is in the mill for the city.

Among others attending were city managers from Littlefield, Silverton, and Amarillo.

Primary speaker for the meeting was Bill McMorries of McMorries & Associates in Amarillo. McMorries is consulting engineer for Canyon as well as for several other towns in the Panhandle.

McMorries explained to the city managers the procedure used to determine rates in Texas.

Rates for utilities are based on three items—rate of return, fair value and operating expenses.

McMorries said that according to court rulings each of the three items are to be determined in accordance with fairly set procedures.

"It is the obligation and responsibility of the city commissions in your cities to look into rate increases," McMorries said. "But, it is also their responsibility to make sure the (See PHONE, Page 6)

New Metro Squad Head Named From Amarillo PD

An Amarillo police officer was named coordinator of the Randall-Potter Metro Intelligence Unit Wednesday afternoon.

Captain J.T. Carver, who has been with the Amarillo Police Department 23 years, was named by the unit's board of governor's to replace Joe Bowes, who was relieved of his duties last month. Carver assumed his new duties effective Wednesday.

He has been a field inspector working out of the Amarillo Police Chief's office.

Chief Paul Hulsey said Carver has worked in most divisions of the Amarillo department. He was appointed to his current rank last spring.

Carver told The News Wednesday he anticipates no policy, personnel or operational changes in the Metro unit.

Carver, a native of near Lawton, Okla., came to Amarillo in 1948.

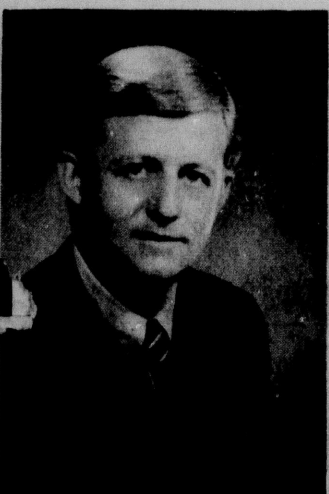

The unit's board of governors Wednesday also named two new members to the board. George Dowlen, Randall County District Attorney and Tom Curtis, Amarillo District Attorney, will now have seats on the board.

Randall County Deputy Dan Carter will remain as second in command of the metro unit, it was announced.

Former metro head Bowes was suspended two weeks ago for what the board of governors

Plank Withdraws From State Race

Rhett Plank Wednesday withdrew as Republican candidate for state representative, 65th District, and there were persistent rumors that Greg Harms, GOP candidate in Potter County, would do likewise. Plank's announcement was made through Don Reavis, Amarillo, Republican 31st District committeeman. Reavis said he had not been informed that Harms might also withdraw.

Plank, a Canyon attorney, defeated Bob Slough of Amarillo in the May primary and had been slated to go on the ballot opposing Democratic incumbent Bryan Poff.

Betty Sterquell, GOP co-chairman for Randall County, said she hopes a Randall County resident will be named to fill the ballot vacancy when county chairmen of Randall, Potter and Carson Counties which make up the 65th District meet to choose an opponent for Poff.

"Randall County is a good Republican County and was a Republican seat until it was switched around on us," declared Reavis. "It was Tom Christian's until the redistricting." (See PLANK, Page 6)

In the meantime, Bowes, who is reported to have found employment in law enforcement in Oklahoma, has appealed the suspension.

Football Fieldhouse Eyed; Athletic Budget Okayed

School board members Tuesday night approved a $32,000 athletic budget for next school year and then discussed at length the possibilities of constructing a fieldhouse near the high school football field to relieve crowded locker room facilities.

The athletic budget includes a projected $13,000 expenditure for high school football and varying other amounts for other sports.

After touring the high school's current dressing room facilities, the board members returned to their meeting room and tossed around the feasibility of erecting a fieldhouse west of the football field.

The fieldhouse idea was introduced by board member Roscoe Richardson.

"Why wouldn't it be feasible to build a football, baseball and track building and let them store their equipment there?" Richardson asked. "Then, you'd have plenty of space for basketball and physical education here (in the present gym locker rooms)."

Richardson said the building could be built adjacent the present football field.

Board member Ed Wieck pointed out that a fieldhouse could be constructed of metal, rather than of brick. Before, the board had discussed the possibility of constructing an addition to the present gym.

Board President Dudley Moore asked Richardson and Tom Keeling to meet with representatives of the high school administration to discuss alternatives and advantages and disadvantages.

But, before the board could get too carried away with the idea of building a new fieldhouse, High School Principal John Sommer inserted a problem which also demanded attention.

Sommer said the school's library is severely cramped for space and he is not even sure it currently meets accreditation standards.

"We're getting more and more crowded," he said. "We definitely do have a problem there."

In other business, the board hired three new teachers. Bob R. Sloan, who has a total of 11 years teaching experience, was hired as head junior high school coach.

Mickey Hathaway of Plainview was hired as a teacher of auto mechanics, and Gail Albracht, who has 14 years experience, was hired as a high school English and history teacher.

Following the regular meeting, the board went into executive session to discuss personnel matters.

Bedwells Featured In Today's Issue

Having lived in California, New Mexico and South Texas, the Wayne Bedwell family decided the Canyon-Happy area was a good place to settle down.

They have just moved into a new home at 1107 14th St. and are featured in this newspaper issue.

Bedwell, who is the new manager of the Happy Wheat Growers Feed Lot, said he believes the Canyon area is full of opportunity.

Attesting to his faith in this area is his "recruitment" of more Canyon residents, relatives from California who are moving here to be the Bedwells' neighbors.

Originally from Brawley, Calif., Bedwell has a varied background of flying aircraft, farming, cow-calf operations and feed lots.

In the past five years, Bedwell

decided to concentrate on feed lots and has vowed to make the Happy Feedlot "the best in the nation."

Although Bedwell has not gone to college, he said he is always furthering his education by reading and learning and said he has his "masters in hard knocks."

Bedwell met his wife Katrin, a native of Stockholm, Sweden, when she was visiting friends of his in California.

The Bedwells have five children: Jim, 23; Dan, 20; Annica, 12; Kaja, 9; and Sten, 5.

The Bedwells chose their new home, which has a slight Spanish style, when it was first being built and then made some changes in the plans.

FROM THE CANYON RIM

Tom Eagleton may regard Jack Anderson as a "distinguished journalist" but I doubt that his sentiments will be shared by the working press of this country.

Last week when Eagleton already was down by the revelation of his history of emotional problems, Anderson accused him of having a record of arrests for drunken and reckless driving.

Tuesday in the wake of Eagleton's resignation as Democratic candidate for vice president, Anderson retracted the story "unqualified and in total."

Anderson's flagrant abuse of the freedom of the press was not simply an injury of already bleeding Tom Eagleton. It served as a further wedge between the people of this country and the press—the only means they have of getting the information they need to run the nation.

Anderson's transgression was a disservice to the United States and I find myself thinking that it is too bad that flogging is not still lawful.

I am glad that Anderson's column runs in The Tulsa Herald and not in The Canyon News.

Less than 24 hours after receiving the nomination George McGovern bungled his first major decision.

Can we expect him to exercise more diligence in choosing a cabinet, a chief of staff or Supreme Court justices than he did in choosing a running mate?

Bob Price is running scared. For the first time since he was elected, he's up against a tough campaigner in Graham Purcell.

Purcell gets down among the people and campaigns in a way Price has never learned to do. Purcell exudes confidence without appearing to be cocky while Bob gives the impression of not being entirely sure of himself.

Purcell has the ability to give his undivided attention to anyone to whom he happens to be talking. Although his schedule must be just as crowded as Bob's, Graham acts like he has all day to small talk with a voter.

Price, I'm sure unintentionally, vibrates a tenseness that makes you feel like a hand-shake is an imposition.

Graham has what appears to be a crack staff which answers correspondence promptly. Bob's most ardent supporters complain that his correspondence lags.

Price has only recently begun to rearrange his staff and you can expect some of these complaints to disappear within the next few weeks. How much it will help is anyone's guess.

In spite of all these things, the congressman from Pampa has a lot going for him. As far as I can tell he has always voted his conscience which for the most part coincides with the conscience of his constituency.

He has made this district a good congressman. He is a farmer and rancher representing a farming and ranching area. He is more at home discussing important problems with area leaders than in the hustings hand-shaking.

Most important, he does not have the McGovern albatross around his neck—a burden that must be more onerous for Democratic office seekers with each passing hour.

State politics in the Amarillo-Canyon area is an entirely new ball game.

Rhett Plank has resigned as Republican candidate for 65th District state representative and Greg Harms is expected to withdraw as Republican candidate in Potter County.

This means that new candidates may be appointed to run on the GOP ticket in November.

Democratic Incumbent Bryan Poff is in pretty solid after being appointed to the powerful Appropriations Committee. I don't see anyone on the horizon who could defeat him.

He has further endeared himself to his conservative district by openly declaring he will not vote for George McGovern.

Ben Bynum, on the other hand, is in deep trouble if a strong Republican is chosen to oppose him. Bynum has set a new world record for political mistakes in a six-month period.

He could be beaten if an articulate opponent chose to enumerate those mistakes enough times before enough voters.

Local Girl Wins Award At Revue

Millie Hales, senior 4-H Dress Revue winner from Randall County, won one of the five coveted awards at the District Revue held in Amarillo-July 31 at the Quality Motel. Altogether, sixty 4-H youth entered the competition.

Miss Hales, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jones Hales of Route 2, was also chosen Best Model of the twenty senior contestants. Her sister Debbie Hales won a blue ribbon and was one of the top five winners in the 12-13 age group. Their brother Larry Hales also won a blue ribbon in the 9-11 age group, wearing double-knit slacks that he had made.

Terry Jo Reynolds, of the Cle-ta 4-H Club, Randall County delegate to the District 1 4-H Council and chairman of the publicity committee, introduced guests at the Revue and helped with modeling instructions for the senior girls. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Reynolds, southeast of Canyon.

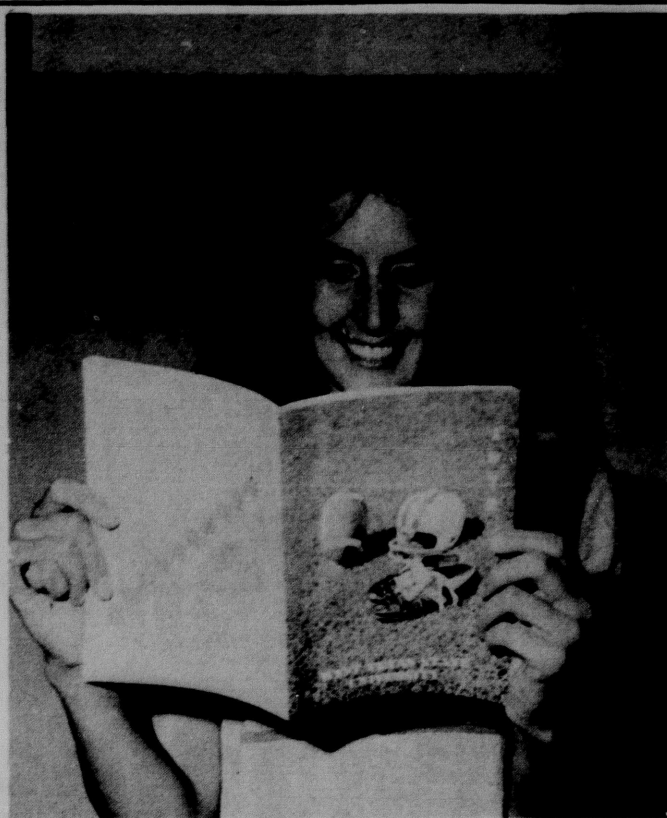

The Hales children are members of the Randel 4-H Club, whose adult leader is Mrs. Anton Hollenstein, Route 2.

Aggies Meet For Picnic

More than a dozen former Texas Aggies from Canyon and their families will be attending a picnic sponsored by Amarillo A&M University Mothers Club. The group will gather at 7 p.m. Aug. 7 at the southeast corner of Memorial Park in Amarillo.

News Brief

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Patton, 2107 13th Ave., have had as houseguests for the past two weeks her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Barnett of Coronado, Calif. They have also been visiting with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barnett, who live near Canyon.

Beverly Chisholm, Littlefield senior at WTSU, looks over the new football pressbook which was sent to area newspapers this week. The book, compiled by Sports Information Director Tommy Bryant, has all the facts and figures about the Buffaloes. It is sent in anticipation of the football season which begins at the university in early September.

14 Amendments On Nov. Ballot

Voters in Texas will find not only names on November's ballot when they go to the polls.

Also to be considered are 14 amendments to the state constitution.

Several amendments would raise the salaries of legislators, the lieutenant governor and speaker of the house.

Another amendment provides equality under the law for all persons regardless of sex, race, color, creed or national origin.

Outline of the amendments will begin appearing in The Canyon News today.

A brief description of each, as formulated by the Texas Legislative Council, is as follows:

No. 1 — Amending Article III, Section 24, of the Texas Constitution to provide annual salaries of $8,400 for members of the senate and house of representatives.

No. 2 — Amending Article IX, Section 6, of the Texas Constitution to abolish Lamar County Hospital District.

No. 3 — Amending Article XVI, Section 61, of the Texas Constitution to require the commissioners courts in all counties of the state to compensate all justices of the peace on a salary basis beginning January 1, 1973.

No. 4 — Granting authority to the legislature to establish a constitutional revision commission which would report its recommendations no later than Nov. 1, 1973, and providing that members of the 63rd Legislature would then be convened in January 1974 as a constitutional convention to serve 60 days for the purpose of drafting a new constitution for submission to voters of Texas.

No. 5 — Amending Article VIII, Section 2, relating to a tax exemption on certain property owned by a disabled veteran, to provide that exemptions, which would range from $1,500 to $3,000, be made on a graduated scale based on the percentage of the veteran's disability.

No. 6 — Amending Article VIII, Section 1-b, of the Texas Constitution, to provide that the various political subdivisions of the state may exempt not less than $3,000 of the value of residence homesteads of all persons 65 years of age or older from ad valorem taxes under certain conditions.

No. 7 — Amending Article I of the Texas Constitution by adding a new Section 3a to provide that equality under the law shall not be denied or abridged because of a person's sex, race, color, creed or national origin.

No. 8 — Amending Article IV, Sections 4, 22, and 23, to provide four-year terms for the offices of governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general, comptroller of public accounts, treasurer, commissioner of the general land office and certain statutory state officers.

No. 9 — Amending Article XVI, Sections 33 and 40, to exempt directors of soil and water conservation districts from prohibitions against dual office-holding and dual compensation.

No. 10 — Amending Article XVII, Section 1, to revise provisions on the time of proposing amendments to the state constitution and the time and method of publishing notice of proposed amendments.

No. 11 — Amending Article IV, Section 17 and adding a new Section 24a to Article III to provide a salary of $22,500 for the lieutenant governor and the speaker of the house of representatives.

No. 12 — Amending Article XVI, Sections 33 and 40 to allow state employees and certain other persons to serve on governing bodies of school districts, cities, towns or other governmental districts without forfeiting their state salary and otherwise to revise generally the restrictions on dual office-holding and dual compensation.

No. 13 — Increasing the maximum interest rate which may be borne by certain bonds issued under constitutional authority by addition of a new Section 65 to Article III.

No. 14 — Amending Article VII by adding a new Section 6b to permit the commissioners court of a county to reduce the county permanent school fund and to provide for the per scholastic distribution and use of the money obtained from this reduction.

TV Influence Questioned

Today's children may appear to have a wide vocabulary, but they need increased exposure to words through reading to be able to use their vocabularies to the greatest extent, a St. Louis educator told about 300 Panhandle area teachers Tuesday.

Citing television's influence on pre-school children, Miss Audrey E. Claus, a curriculum specialist with the St. Louis Public School system, said many teachers have been induced to believe that children have gained a rich and powerful vocabulary from television.

Miss Claus was keynote speaker Tuesday morning at the first session of the 20th annual reading conference sponsored by the Texas Association for the Improvement of Reading at WTSU.

"Children are glib, but I don't think they're word wise," Miss Claus said. "They're passive and bombarded by a multitude of words from the television and they get a multitude of imperfect and fuzzy meanings."

The educator said family conversations—around the dinner table, while spending an evening together, while on outings—have become a thing of the past and have given way to the television.

"I suspect they (children) don't develop real vocabulary through the bombardment of words they receive from television," she said. "Because we are surrounded by talkative children, we think they have good vocabularies. They may know about big words, but what about the right words, the precise words, the colorful or the unusual words."

Miss Claus said that by default the problem of vocabulary development has fallen to the school teacher.

"The teacher must be the pattern of excellence," she said.

She urged the teachers to be aware of the need for vocabulary development throughout their teaching days. She said they should have a stockpile of techniques to use during spare time to interest children in words and their meanings.

Miss Claus was the first of several prominent speakers who appeared before the more than 400 teachers at the conference.

The conference concluded Wednesday night.

Dr. John T. Thornton, Jr., president of TAIR, welcomed the conference attendees Tuesday morning. He is a professor of education and coordinator of graduate and undergraduate reading programs at Stephen F. Austin State University.

Dr. Frank J. Guszak, associate professor in the department of curriculum and instruction at the University of Texas at Austin, also appeared during the conference.

Guszak, who received his Ph.D. from the University of Wisconsin, has been a teacher in Corpus Christi and was an elementary principal in San Angelo. He has also taught at the University of Wisconsin and at the University of New Mexico.

Miss Claus is the co-author of a widely used spelling series and is currently collaborating on a vocabulary development program which has received nationwide publicity.

Local planning committee for the conference was William L. Henry, Mrs. Nadine Lyles, Dr. Helton Wilbur and Dr. Ruth Lowes.

Area Man Files Suit For Libel

A $50,000 libel suit has been filed against The Globe-News Publishing Company by a Randall County resident.

David K. Miller, whose residence was listed as the Palisades has asked general damages in the sum of $25,000 and special damages in the sum of $25,000.

The suit was filed with the district clerk in Potter County.

The suit says the Amarillo publication carried a story saying Miller was indicted by a federal grand jury in Lubbock in connection with the operation of a still east of Amarillo.

Attorneys for the plaintiff say Miller was not indicted and that the story constitutes libel per se.

The story to which Miller took offense is alleged to have been published Sept. 18, 1971.

The petition contends that as a result of the story Miller was shunned by his former friends, "his reputation and character questioned, injured and exposed to public hatred, contempt and ridicule, and his honesty, integrity and reputation were impeached."

The petition further states that Miller suffered loss of gainful employment as a result of the newspaper article.

Attorney for Miller is Dean Dunlap of Amarillo.

Pond Returns From Seminar

County Judge Woody Pond returned from the University of Minnesota Monday and said his three-week study at the Juvenile Court Judges Institute there was rewarding and very educational.

Pond said the institute covered growth and development of children, court services, the juvenile justice system, drug abuse and studies in peer group treatment.

The judge said the most interesting part of the institute to him was the block of instruction on growth and development.

"This was just a tremendous help to me," Pond said. "They gave us some techniques of communication that I'd been using for a long time without even knowing it."

WT Offense Is Promising

(NOTE: This is part of a series on West Texas State University's football prospects for the 1972 season—OFFENSIVE LINE.)

Assistant coach Jimmy Campbell is in charge of West Texas State University's athletic dining hall.

The former West Texas State and professional football player did his homework and decided a few of the WTSU athletes were too much on the skinny side.

Under Campbell's direction, peanut butter and tuna fish sandwiches were provided each day at noon for skinny athletes to eat in between meals as the protein in them is good for adding weight.

One of Campbell's best customers was Don White. The former Odessa Permian athlete has outstanding quickness as an offensive center, but had little weight to back up his aggressive play.

When White started his weight-adding program, he tipped the scales at 182 pounds. He had pushed his weight above the 190-mark when spring training started. He switched from sandwiches to weight-lifting this summer and is presently near the 200-pound mark on the scales.

Outside of White, the remainder of the Buffalo starting line on offense at the end of spring drills has no trouble with being too light to play.

Junior college transfer Gary Fennell of San Diego, Calif., and Andrews junior Jim Hankins, a converted center, held the starting tackle berths at the end of spring drills. Fennell is 6-0 and 235, while Hankins is 6-4 and 227. Hankins was pushed hard for a job all spring by TCU transfer Carroll Marriot, who is 6-5½ and 235.

Allen Mullins, a 6-5, 249-pound former all-stater from Sunray, teamed with former tackle Billy Taylor of Plains, who is 6-4 and 229, at the guard positions. Ronnie Bassett, who started some games last fall, and transfer Mike Delaney back up those two players. Former Amarillo Caprock griddier Mike Cerken backed up White. He is 6-1½ and 215.

Sophomores Jim Hart of Lubbock and Ed Alford of Highspire, Pa., along with Jim Jeffers of Hobbs, N.M., were other reserved during spring drills.

Three other players will join the offensive line group this fall. They are former Marine David Freeman, a guard, and tackles John Hunter and Mike Kotrous. Hunter and Kotrous are transferring from Fort Scott Community College in Fort Scott, Kan. Freeman played two years for the Quantico Marines against collegiate teams. Freeman, 6-3, 235-pounder from Hurst, underwent an operation in the spring to correct a shoulder injury and it will be unknown if that operation was successful until practice starts Aug. 24.

Library Offers Wide Variety For Summer Reading

BY JUNE DAYEN

A cure for loneliness... an escape from boredom... a passport to a different land and a different time... a world of ideas and information—all of these one can find between the covers of a good book. And Canyon City Library now offers a wide variety of books, old and new, to suit almost every reading taste.

Adult Reading

According to Mrs. Mary Huntington, librarian, here are four of the most popular newer books for mature readers:

"The Godfather," by Mario Puzo. The film based on this story of a "mafia" father-figure has popularized the novel.

"The Exorcist," by William Peter Blatty. It is a suspenseful tale of a little girl possessed by a supernatural spirit. The author has done extensive research on the occult.

"Passions of the Mind," by Irving Stone. This is a fictional biography of Sigmund Freud. It is said that the distinguished author considers it his best novel so far, and that it has won the approval of the family of the great psychologist also.

"Franklin and Eleanor," by Joseph Lash. This nonfiction book is considered an accurate and moving portrayal of the personal lives of Franklin Delano and Eleanor Roosevelt.

For the reader who prefers a mixture of mystery and romance on the lighter side, the librarian may suggest one of these:

"The Shadow of the Lynx," by Victoria Holt. "Listen to the Whisper," by Phyllis Whitney. or "The Crystal Cave," by Mary Stewart. Canyon City Library has other works by these authors, and all of them are extremely popular, says Mrs. Huntington. Another such author, George Heyer, has experienced a revival of popularity since her works have been published in paperback and the library has acquired new editions in hardback.

Topics which have the most reader appeal, says Mrs. Huntington, are witchcraft, the Civil War, and racing cars.

A popular new novel on the occult is "Here, Mr. Splitfoot," by Robert Somerlott; two non-fiction books in demand are "Witchcraft at Salem," by Chadwick Hansen, and "A Gift of Prophecy," by Jean Dixon.

For those who enjoy reading about the yarns, legends and history of Texas, Mrs. Huntington recommends:

"The Texas Courthouse," by June Rayfield Welch and J. Larry Nance, containing pictures and resume of facts about Texas courthouses.

"Diary of William Barret Travis, Hero of the Alamo," by Robert E. Davis, an actual diary kept from Aug. 30, 1833, to June 26, 1834.

"Black Beans & Goose Quills," by James M. Day, a history of the Texan band of 305 that invaded the domain of Santa Anna in the Mexican War.

"Sam Houston's Wife," by William Seale—a new biography.

"Lost Legends of the West," by Brad Williams Choral Pepper.

"How-to" books can introduce one to a craft or hobby that can prove richly rewarding. Here are three of the many attractive and well-illustrated how-to books in the Canyon City Library:

"Macrame," by Virginia I. Harvey.

"Manning on Decoupage," by Hiram Manning.

"The Complete Book of Rug Hooking," by Barbara J. Zarbock.

One of the well-written new books on the Civil War is "Hood's Texas Brigade: Lee's Grenadier Guard," by Col. Harold B. Simpson. The author is a retired Air Force officer who has made himself an authority on the Civil War.

For Teen-Agers

Teen boys enjoy reading books on cars, which include "The World's Racing Cars," by M.L. Twite—a favorite.

Two of the newer books that teen-age girls find absorbing are:

"The Homecoming," by Earl Hamner, Jr. This novel, televised last winter, is about Spencer's Mountain, Virginia, and a boy going out on Christmas Eve in search of a father who has failed to return home.

"Tregaron's Daughter," by Madeleine Brent. With a setting of England and Italy in 1910, the story is about an English girl who unravels her grandmother's past.

Children's Books

The library offers a wide assortment of children's books, most of them with delightful illustrations. They include for younger children:

"Elephant Bread," a book of recipes for concoctions children like to make and eat—all with imaginative names.

"Miss Flora McFlimsey's Valentine," by Mariana—one of a popular series.

"The Strawberry Thumb," by Gloria Kamen. This is the story of a grandmother's resourceful solution for a little girl's problem of thumb-sucking.

"Lisa and the Grompet," by Patricia Coombs—one of a series about Dorrie, a little witch.

"Horton Hears a Who," by Dr. Seuss. Everyone is familiar with the verbal antics and funny illustrations of Dr. Seuss' books.

Children of upper elementary grades find these books to their liking:

"Pippi Longstocking," by Astrid Lindren, about a prodigious Swedish tomboy.

"Mustang—Wild Spirit of the West," by Marguerite Henry, the story of all the wild mustangs of the West and "Wild Horse Annie," who protests the

Porcelain Club Meets At Center

The Palo Duro Porcelain Art Club met July 21 at the Community Center in Canyon. Mrs. Garland Toney, Amarillo, and Mrs. Charles Donnell were hostesses.

The business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Emzy May. Mrs. Johnnie Tunnell, Slaton, Tex., was visiting demonstrator for the day. She is a member of the South Plains Porcelain Art Club in Lubbock, the State Federation Porcelain Art Club of Texas and the International China Painting Teachers Organization. The subject was the "Painting of Roses."

"TEXAS" Originals Go On Stage Sunday

By CAROL CRAIN

"TEXAS" Originals will be presented on the Branding Iron Theatre stage Sunday at 8 p.m.

The show consists of a variety of acts including dancing, singing, and acting performed by members of the 1972 "TEXAS" company.

Admission is free though contributions to the scholarship fund will be accepted at the door and two scholarships will be awarded after the evening's entertainment.

Winning the "TEXAS" company scholarships last summer were Georgia Clinton of Amarillo and Harrell Floyd of Canyon. Both have leading roles in this season's musical drama.

Director for "Originals" is Nik Hagler, designer and technical director of theatre at Iowa State University and TEXAS' stage manager.

Acts include a dance number choreographed by Rene' Clemente of El Paso, three year "TEXAS" veteran. Members of the dance troupe are Leesa Lohoeffer, Roxanne Bartush, Jan Bettis, and Paula Knerr all of Lubbock; Bily Black of El Paso, Jim Holston and Mike McKenzie of Canyon; and Valerie McCarthy, Mark Lanham, and Derryl Yeager of Amarillo.

Clemente designed the stunning black and white costumes for the "Shaft" musical routine. They have been made by Sandra Graves, Betty Holcomb, and Armando Nevarez.

Patrick Cuccaro of Muskogee, Oklahoma and Rodger Wilson of Canyon are scheduled to present two comic selections.

An original dramatic reading by Jane Bivins Lipscomb entitled "Mom" will be presented with Mrs. Lipscomb, as Mary; Margaret Moore as Lavinia, and Charlotte Brantley as Grace.

The group "Buck Dollar and the Four Quarters" will sing "Joshua Fought the Battle of Jerico." Those in the group are Rodger Wilson as Buck Dollar and Alta Jo Reasonover of Seagraves, Lorinda White of Greeley, Colorado; and Kathy McNeil and Janice Perkins of Amarillo as the four quarters.

"McGrew's Zoo" will then be staged as an adaptation of a Dr. Seuss script by Dalina Bond. The background music will be "Dimtiti."

The surprising Maverick.

It's a comfortable, 6-cylinder American compact that's actually priced below the Volkswagen 113.

If you can afford a Volkswagen 113 - or almost any little import - you can afford a Maverick. Look:

FORD MAVERICK	2-door	6-cylinder	$2,140.*
VW 113 (Super Beetle)	2-door	4-cylinder	$2,159.*
TOYOTA COROLLA 1600	2-door	4-cylinder	$2,109.*
DATSUN PL 510	2-door	4-cylinder	$2,306.*

*Manufacturer's suggested retail price for 2-door models. Excludes dealer preparation charges if any, destination charges, title and taxes.

NOTE: People ask us how we can afford to offer a roomy, 6-cylinder compact at about the same price as the little imports.

First, we've been making small cars since 1908. Experience helps. Second, we haven't changed Maverick—except for mechanical improvements—since we first introduced it. That kind of continuity helps to control costs.

Third, recent currency revaluations and devaluations have helped restore the competitive stance of American manufacturers.

Most little imports give you 4-cylinder engines. Maverick gives you a 6-cylinder engine.

It's smooth. It's reliable. It lets you accelerate into turnpike traffic with confidence and hold your own on steep hills. And it delivers surprisingly good gas mileage.

A good car for long trips.

Maverick's rear track is 2.9" wider than Volkswagen's. Its wheel-base is 7.7" longer. There's a bit more weight, too. By themselves, these differences aren't very big—but they can add up to a big difference in the way Maverick drives and handles the open road.

Better idea for safety... buckle up!

Bunt Sends Girl Team To State

A bunt laid down by versatile Karla Swartzell pressed the Canyon KK softball team into the state girls' tournament Saturday night.

The girls left Wednesday and will play the Pasadena Royals at 9:30 o'clock Thursday night in Irving.

The state tournament is a 16-team double round robin. The Canyon KKs won their way into the state playoffs in an extra inning win over the NATCO team of Amarillo.

On instructions from Coach Robert Quintanilla, Swartzell bunted and forced in the winning run winning the first place trophy in the Amarillo league.

The win was not without its price. Penny Peckenpaugh, ace catcher for the KKs, suffered a leg fracture in a slide home and will not be in the playoff games.

Canyon's team won the championship behind the pitching of Rhonda Umberson.

Earlier in the playoffs here, the KKs defeated Huckaby homes of Amarillo 6 to 2.

Canyon was allowed to draft three players from the league to go with them to the state meet. Quintanilla chose Vicky Haiduk to take the place of Peckenpaugh behind the plate and pitchers Belinda Whitson and Patty Salazar to back Umberson up on the mound.

Brief Histories Spread Around Town

About 25 historical markers in and around Canyon attract tourists and even old-timers to read them and learn a bit of Panhandle history.

Most of these markers were placed through the Randall County Historical Association, a branch of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee in Austin.

The markers were financed by state and county funds and individual donations.

First president of the Randall County Historical Association was Mrs. T.B. McCarter, and the second was Mrs. Terry Martin. Third and present president is Mrs. Clyde Warwick, who compiled and wrote "The Randall County Story."

For those who have not read all the markers or who may have forgotten some of the information on them, the following is a description of the ones in and near Canyon.

Erected by the State Highway Department in 1936, an historical marker for Randall County was placed about one mile south of Canyon at a roadside park.

Information on it read that the county was created on Aug. 21, 1876, and organized July 27, 1889, from Young and Bexar Territories.

With Canyon the county seat, the county was named in honor of Horace Randal (1821-1864), a distinguished Confederate officer who fell in battle at the head of his brigade.

In 1965, four more markers identifying the county were placed on the highways leading to Canyon. Included on these markers is the information that the county was settled in 1877 by rancher Leigh Dyer, brother-in-law of Charles Goodnight, who first brought cattle to the Panhandle. Also, Randall County is the home of West Texas State University, Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum, Palo Duro State Park and Buffalo Lake.

Also in 1965, a medallion plate was placed on the Randall County Courthouse. The courthouse was the second for the county and was erected in 1909, on the eve of the opening of WTSU. On this site was first a frame house, the first school in the county. Cowboys had dances on its tin roof.

On the City Hall Building, at 1600 4th Ave., is a marker for the City of Canyon. The Canyon site was surveyed Christmas Day, 1887, by L.G. Conner, who also donated land for numerous civic improvements. The town was named for the colorful Palo Duro Canyon, 12 miles east.

Despite a harsh environment characterized by snow, sandstorms and grasshopper plagues, pioneer citizens pushed ahead. With six students, the first school was organized in 1889. Using barbed wire fence posts as poles, the first telephone line was built in 1896. Church services were held in the early days in the courthouse.

In 1898, the arrival of the Santa Fe Railroad spurred town growth; and in 1901, 1902 and 1908 Canyon is said to have shipped out more cattle than any other city in the world.

In 1906 Canyon incorporated at the urging of Jasper N. Haney, lawyer, who was elected first mayor.

In 1908 an electric power plant was built, at first running only in the evening. Later, it was on in the afternoon for women to do the ironing. Since 1910 when WTSU was opened, the school and town have advanced together.

Canyon citizens initiated Buffalo Lake Conservation Project, dedicated in 1939, and have contributed to the development of the Panhandle region, the marker reads.

Erected in 1967 was the historical marker for the site of the Conner digout. The half-dugout, with windows at ground level, was the first home in Canyon.

The home was the location of Canyon's first post office and birthplace of Mamie Conner, first white child born in the county.

Noting the site of the Canyon Wagon Yard is a marker at 1702 5th Ave., where LaGrone's Funeral Home is now. In 1890-1921 the Wagon Yard was the ranchman's headquarters in town, where he slept in a bedroll in his wagon or in a room above the office. Overnight charges for the Wagon Yard were 10 cents a horse and 50 cents a man.

At 310 8th St. is a marker in front of the old L.T. Lester home, which was built in 1904. Mantle pieces for four fireplaces and marble lavatories were bought in Kansas City, Mo. It was the site of political, social and church gatherings.

A buffalo hunter and cattleman, Lester settled in Canyon in 1889 and opened the first bank in 1900. He helped bring West Texas State Normal College here in 1910.

In 1968, the Historical Society erected a marker at 1406 8th St., where Chaparral Mobile Home Park is now. The site is where W.F. Heller, pioneer farmer, first lived. Settling in the area in 1887, Heller was the first to successfully farm.

Heller was elected the first county clerk and helped to organize the first Sunday school in 1890 and start West Texas State Normal College.

At the First National Bank is an historical marker with the information that the bank, originally called Stockmen's National Bank, was organized Jan. 5, 1900, by L.T. Lester, S.F. Sullenberger and 19 others.

As the first bank in the region immediately south of Amarillo, it was a vital factor in developing the city and county. The bank has been in four different buildings during its existence.

In front of the new location of The Canyon News at 1500 5th Ave. is a marker telling of the history of Canyon newspapers. The first city paper, "The Echo," was first printed in 1889. In 1896, "The Stayer" was first printed and later renamed "Randall County News," the predecessor of the present paper.

Editor of the paper in 1910-1955, Clyde W. Warwick won awards for outstanding weekly in 1942 and 1950. A special edition in 1949 was rated the nation's best. Troy Martin became editor in 1960.

Other markers in Canyon include ones at the First Methodist Church, the First Baptist Church and the WTSU Administration Building.

At Conner Park is a marker in memory of Randall County men who died in World War II, and 12 Civil War veterans' graves were marked by the Randall County Historical Association in 1966.

A marker at the Randall County Courthouse tells a story of the Civil War veterans' reunions, celebrated annually in Canyon from 1900-1910. The reunions each summer were a focal point of social life.

Several thousand people arrived by horseback, train, buckboard and covered wagons. They pitched tents and built fires to cook meals.

Members of the Stonewall Jackson Confederate veterans camp exchanged tales with many other veterans of both sides. Politicians delivered patriotic speeches. Families watched balloon ascensions and attended farm and garden shows, ball games and bulldogging and bronco-busting contests.

An historic marker about Umbarger is at Donnell Gulf service station. The town was settled in 1895 by Civil War veteran S.G. Umbarger, who built on his farm a wagon yard and sheds for travelers bound for Amarillo from the Southwest.

When the Pecos Valley Railroad was built in 1898, Umbarger's name was given to a switch there.

In 1902, when the post office was established, a strong German-Catholic influence was introduced by Pius Friemel and family, whose close friends soon followed. A church and school were founded by 1908.

On U.S. Highways 60 and 87, about 2 miles north of Canyon by the WTSU Farm, is a marker telling of the T-Anchor Ranch headquarters. Built of the logs from Palo Duro Canyon, the headquarters was built by Leigh R. Dyer in 1877 and is the oldest surviving house in the Texas Panhandle.

In 1878, Dyer sold to Gunter, Summerfield and Munson, and the ranch became the center of area ranching and development.

In front of the Panhandle-Plains Museum, situated on the commemorative Charles Goodnight Trail, is an historical marker about the trail.

The highway from the museum to Palo Duro State Park approximates the course used by Charles Goodnight, Texas cowboy and trail blazer, when he trailed 1600 cattle from Colorado to found the first ranch on the Staked Plains of Texas in 1876. Goodnight entered precipitous Palo Duro Canyon by way of an old Comanche Indian trail, drove thousands of buffalo from what is now park area and established his home ranch a few miles father down the canyon.

In partnership with John G. Adair, Goodnight expanded his original Palo Duro Ranch into the giant JA and other holdings of more than a million acres and 100,000 cattle. He worked to preserve the buffalo, found a college, encouraged the settlement of the Plains and led a fight for law and order.

Born in Illinois March 5, 1836, Goodnight died March 12, 1929, and is buried at Goodnight.

On the eastern edge of Canyon is an historical marker noting the site of an early barbed wire fence in the Panhandle. In the latter 1890's, when fencing was needed in the treeless Texas Panhandle, the solution was barbed wire.

Joseph F. Glidden of Illinois devised and manufactured with L.L. Ellwood the first really practical barbed wire on the market. H.B. Sanborn was sent to Texas their agent, and he remained to become a builder of the Panhandle.

Wanting free access to water and grass, ranchers at first resisted fencing. Cowboys disliked it, as fewer range riders were needed on fenced lands. Old-timers grew bitter because of blocked trails, and herds had to be hauled rather than driven to market.

Newcomers wanted fencing, in order to have use of land purchased for ranching, and merchants and city-builders wanted fences to assure settlement.

The T-Anchor ranch, owned by Jot Gunter and W.B. Munson, real estate investors from Grayson County, built a line fence on this site east of Canyon in 1881, enclosing a 240,000 acre horse pasture. Also built in this area, by popular subscription, was a "drift" fence to hold cattle back from wandering south in blue northerns and blizzards.

Barbed wire gradually came into general use and perhaps saved the cattle industry, because improvements in breeding and feeding were possible on fenced ranges.

Also on the highway to Palo Duro is a marker placed in 1959 by the Texas Society of Daughters of the American Colonies. It notes the feast of first Thanksgiving given by Padre Fray Juan de Padillo for Coronado and his troops in Palo Duro Canyon 79 years before the Pilgrims came to America.

On the same highway east of Canyon is a marker telling of the range of the ciboleros, Mexican buffalo hunters. They ranged the High Plains from the early 1800's to 1878. They used six-foot lances to pierce the bison's lungs, cut meat in strips and hung it to dry on ropes of cactus fiber or rawhide. After pouring tallow on the meat and rolling it, they sold it in Mexico as carne seca, jerked meat.

At the entrance to Palo Duro State Park is a marker telling about the old JA ranch, owned by Goodnight and Englishman Adair.

Taking in more than a million acres of land and grazing 101,023 head of cattle, the ranch in Palo Duro Canyon became one of the greatest cattle operations in the world.

Goodnight had become acquainted with the Palo Duro as a scout and guide for the Texas Rangers during the Civil War. He knew that the canyon, fenced in by the overhanging caprock, was an ideal spot for a ranch, as it furnished water and shelter in the winter and the adjacent plains provided ideal grazing in the summer.

The upper division of the ranch, now the park area, was reserved for the purebred, JJ herd. The vast lower end of the JA was ranged by longhorns, gradually improved by better blood.

In 1887, the Goodnight-Adair partnership was ended, and Adair retained the JA.

In Palo Duro Park is an historical marker telling of the battle of Palo Duro Canyon on Sept. 28, 1874. It was one of the most significant battles of the 1874-75

Indian campaigns, in which columns of troops converged from five directions and harassed Indians on the Plains for more than six months.

The Fourth Cavalry under Col. Ranald S. MacKenzie, moving north from Fort Concho (now San Angelo) tracked a large band of Indians to their secret canyon camp.

Moving silently at dawn down a perilous path on the south rim, the first troops reached the canyon floor before the aroused camp fled.

Some of the warriors took up positions on the canyon walls from which they fired on the troops to give their families time to escape.

Realizing his tactical disadvantage, MacKenzie ordered the Indian camp and supplies burned and withdrew, taking along 1,400 captured horses, 1,000 of which he later destroyed.

The Cavalry suffered no casualties in the fight, and only four Indian dead were counted.

Having lost half their horses as well as all their supplies and shelter, the Indians drifted back to reservations at Fort Sill and Fort Reno.

This caricature is of the comic lead in "Texas," Tucker Yelldell, who is played by Jerry Williams of Canyon. Williams is also an antique dealer, gift store owner and part-time instructor at West Texas State University.

Williams (Yelldell) Has No Nap Time

The hardest time of the day for Jerry Williams of Canyon is about 5 to 7 p.m.

That's when he's ending one job and about to begin another, while most folks are starting to relax.

Antique dealer, businessman, actor and teacher are among the things that keep Williams busy.

In the mornings and afternoons, Williams runs his store, Williams Etc., in which he sells boutique-gift items and antiques.

Then it's out to Palo Duro Park Amphitheater by 7:45 p.m. for Williams who plays the comedy lead, Tucker Yelldell, in the summer production "Texas."

"Sometimes I have time for supper and a 15-minute nap before going to my second job," said Williams, who describes himself as being full of nervous energy.

"Keeping busy is good for me — it keeps me young, and I get a charge out of every day," explained Williams.

A positive, optimistic thinker, Williams said, "I even look forward to everyday, even to the problems, so that I can make them challenges."

Admitting that he usually does not get everything done, Williams said it is frustrating, but then he has something left to do the next day.

Williams' keys to life management are perseverance and determination, along with the development of self-confidence. "I try to learn from mistakes, instead of letting them pull me down," said Williams.

About his role of Tucker Yelldell, Williams said he learns something new about Tucker every night, with each audience.

When asked how he manages the switch of personalities from the businessman to the prospector every night in a short period of time, Williams admitted that though he concentrates very hard while acting, he occasionally "blanks out."

A member of the Antique Appraisers Association, Williams said because something is old and classified as an antique does not mean it has value.

"Value is determined by aesthetic appeal and popular demand," explained Williams, who added that demand runs in fads and differs from locale to locale.

One of the most recent popular antiques are Japanese Nipon porcelain china. Williams, who recently sold one Nipon tea service, said the price for this china has gone up about three times in the past five years.

Antiques, however are usually a long-term investment, as antique sales are slow-moving and depend greatly on the economy, explained Williams.

The most expensive antiques in his shop now are two chairs of a Jacobean transitional style, made in about 1700, from the Folger Shakespeare Library in Washington, D.C. Each is worth $750.

A few years ago, Williams started selling gift items also. While his clientele covers all ages, the majority is from junior high to college age levels.

"I enjoy selling antiques and gifts, and I like finding new way to merchandise," said Williams.

When asked how a person with a bachelors degree in sociology, a masters in education and post-graduate work in speech pathology, became an antique appraiser and gift shop owner, Williams said he really does not know.

Having had no business courses, Williams said he thinks the best training is vocational on-the-job work.

Williams had a certificate of clinical competency in speech pathology from the American Speech and Hearing Association, and he teaches the subject in night classes at West Texas State University during fall and spring semesters.

The Canyon native is also a consulting speech therapist for the Amarillo Speech and Hearing Center.

When Jerry Williams says that he's a person who must keep busy, one can look at Williams the storeowner, the actor, the teacher and the antique appraiser and know that he does just that.

Newspaper Future Viewed

A brief glimpse of the newspaper of the future was given about 80 Panhandle area teachers Monday during the first session of the 9th annual Living Textbook Workshop at West Texas State University.

Amarillo newspaper editor Wes Izzard told the teachers the function of the newspaper has not changed since papers first began centuries ago.

"The first responsibility of the newspaper is to inform the people of the community, to satisfy their right to know," Izzard said. "A bad paper which is free to report the news is better than no paper at all and eminently better than one controlled by government power."

Izzard, the editor and publisher of the Amarillo Daily News, told a story of one of this nation's newsmen who was visiting in Russia. He approached a Soviet guide and she told him the press in America was not free.

In America, she told him, newspapers present so many sides of issues that the people are confused.

In Russia, she said, a group of men decide what the nation's papers will stand for.

"The people are not confused and know exactly what to think," she told the newsmen.

Tracing briefly the history of the press in America, Izzard said the nation's newspapers attract 62 million readers daily.

And, those 62 million readers are eyeing newspapers which are manufactured almost as they were after Gutenberg invented moveable type.

"In recent years, the saying was growing in newspaper shops that Gutenberg would feel at home in any shop in America because the basic process remained the same until about 10 years ago," he said.

Now, the basic process is changing from one involving metal type to one involving photography and electronics. "Metal type is on the way out," he said. "Not a single piece of equipment was sold in this country this year."

And, on its way in is cold type, a photographic process which replaces traditional metal type.

For the future, Izzard said experts are predicting a rise in use of facsimile newspapers, papers which would be delivered to homes through a television-like box.

Even so, Izzard predicted that in the near future newspapers will be of the same type they are now and will serve the same function.

"Tomorrow's will be much like today's," he said. "But, I can't speak for the day after tomorrow's."

The Living Textbook Workshop began Sunday evening with an address from Dr. Chuck Whaley.

Continued through Monday, Tuesday and part of Wednesday. Speakers included Thomas Thompson, editor of the Amarillo Globe-Times, Jim Clark, managing editor of the Amarillo papers, and Dr. Lee Williamson.

Going somewhere? Or been? The Canyon News wants to know about it—and so do its readers.

By CAROL CRAIN

ON THE COVER OF "TEXAS FARMER STOCK-MAN" (the August issue) in full color is the picture of Scott Stubblefield and his quarter horse.

Scott, a WTSU student majoring in agriculture, is currently president of the National American Junior Quarter Horse Association.

Inside the magazine is an article written by Scott (as told to one of the Stockman's correspondents) with a picture with cutline about WTSU horse program.

The article on page four is titled "How to Win With Horses—Start and Stay Right". An insert on page five tells that the WTSU horse program is "unique in the Southwest".

BETH KIMBROUGH OLIVER has been in the city for several days visiting her mother, Mrs. Frank Kimbrough.

Beth is married to Col. George Oliver who is the Brigade Commander at Ft. Belvoir, Virginia and the son of the W.T. Olivers (former Canyonites) (the Col. is also the nephew of the late George Nance).

Their daughter, Kim and Julie Saunders have been "having a great time in Texas" for a good part of the summer. The girls became close friends while at the Washington Ballet Academy, I understand.

One of the most interesting background items I can think of about Beth is that she was one of the advance people who toured the nation with Mrs. Francis Humphrey Howard (sister of Hubert), during the 1968 campaign. Beth noted that she learned a lot that year.

The Olivers are now close personal friends of Texas Congressman and Mrs. Graham Purcell, now of Canyon.

"I met Nancy at a Texas State Society event after hearing so many nice things about her," Beth mentioned. "She is certainly charming".

"Congressman Purcell is such a respected man in Washington," she pointed out, saying that she would be aiding in his re-election campaign.

The charming Kimbrough home at 2000 5th Ave., by the way, has recently been sold and Bernice has purchased a townhouse located at 3113 W. 28th in Amarillo.

Mrs. Kimbrough will spend a great deal of her time in Canyon, visiting her life long friends, I am sure.

B/GENERAL RICHARD T. KIGHT will be the guest speaker at the upcoming Claude School Homecoming, the Alumni Association has announced.

Kight, a member of the Class of 1931, is well remembered as the pilot who flew Wendell Wilkie around the world. His accomplishments in service to his country were even greater as he served as Commanding Officer at various important military bases and installations.

His most important assignment was with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Claude's Homecoming is set for Saturday, September 23 with registration in the grade school gym at 9:30 a.m., the program at 2 p.m. in the school auditorium, a coffee at 4 p.m. at the grade school.

My thanks to Cassie Nelson, alumni secretary for sharing this news with readers. Cassie is a former Canyon resident daughter of the late Rev. Johnny R. Hicks.

A TRIP TO HAWAII for $399 is being offered to members of the Texas Federation of Women's Club.

The trip departs September 2 from Dallas/Houston. For further information write TFWC, 2312 San Gabriel Street, Austin, Texas, 78705.

The trip includes a champagne breakfast every morning, festive cocktail party every evening, gourmet dinner nightly, round trip via American Airlines and luxury accommodations at the Hawaiian Regent at Waikiki.

Sounds great, doesn't it? Let me know if you think a group might be going from Canyon.

DOROTHY AND JOE HAWKINS have recently returned to the city from a trip to the Marriott in Dallas where Dorothy completed Course II with the Texas Realtors Institute.

The course included single family residential properties, tax free exchanges, syndication, marketing, construction, appraisal, commercial property, advance marketing, and administrative techniques.

A NEW EATING PLACE IN DALLAS, Dorothy mentioned, is called "The Celebration" and features family styled meals served in a atmosphere-filled candlelight setting.

None of the 18 employees are over 25 years—with owner-manager Ed Loe, 23.

"The Celebration" is located at 4503 W. Lovers Lane in a converted home. The decor is in the earth colors, reflecting the young people's interest in ecology and the tables are hammered copper sheets.

On the menu there's everything from pot roast of veal and baked chicken to red snapper and spaghetti. Fresh vegetables are rotated nightly and include Swiss chard, green beans, corn on the cob, sweet potatoes and Irish potatoes.

Handcranked ice cream and homemade bisquits round out the meal which costs a reasonable $2 to $4.

"The Celebration" is open from 5:30 to 11:00 each evening—no reservations are accepted and the seating capacity is 72.

AAUW DUES ARE to be sent to Sue Park, treasurer by August 10 for the 1972-73 club year. Jo Green is president.

THE SUMMER ISSUE OF THE LAMP, sorority publication for Delta Zeta, pictures two coeds from West Texas State.

Beverly Chisholm is pictured as Alpha Tau Omega pledge class sweetheart and Judy Gossett is in there for Phi Delta Theta sweetheart.

Other sororities are urged to keep me informed of similar news from their publications.

TEN SONS OF OLIVER is a limited publication about the Crain Clan a few years back—I thought you might like to know that Crister has written the biographical information for several of the personalities therein.

The limited edition (200 copies) came out this month and is authored by Dr. and Mrs. Solon Crain of Midland.

(I try to avoid any personal family notations whenever possible but felt that this would interest those of you who know and love Crister).

FREE PASSES TO LA MESA PARK are available at the Canyon Chamber of Commerce office. So if you enjoy the Sport of Kings—horse racing—then you can save yourself the price of general admission. Race dates continue weekends through September 10.

Free Lunch Is Offered

The Canyon school system will offer again this year free lunches or lunches at reduced prices for underprivileged students.

The lunch program is in compliance with guidelines from the Texas Education Agency, according to School Supt. Jerry Jacobs.

The free lunches or lunches at a reduced price are provided by the school system based on family income, size of family and number of children in school, Jacobs said.

A letter will be sent home with each Canyon school student explaining the free lunch program. The letter will include charts showing income and family size categories which qualify students for free lunches or lunches at reduced rates.

Jacobs said the charge to students can be as little as 40 cents in the elementary schools, 45 cents in junior high and 50 cents in high school.

"However, since some families find it difficult to pay the full price, the school will provide lunches free or at a reduced price to children determined by the principal of each school to be unable to pay the full price for their lunches," Jacobs said.

He said families who feel their children may be eligible for free or reduced-price lunches may make application to the principal of the school attended by the child or children involved.

Copies of application forms for the meals are available from the schools. Applications must be completed, signed by an adult member of the family and sent to the school principal.

"Applications will be reviewed promptly and within ten days the family will be notified in writing of the decision made," he said. "All information provided on the application will be held in the strictest confidence."

The superintendent said any unusual circumstances or hardship which affects a family's ability to pay for school lunches will also be considered.

As an example, Jacobs said if a family experiences a prolonged illness, unexpected expenses due to fire, flood or any other disaster, seasonal employment and similar emergencies.

"If a family is not satisfied with the decision made on an application, it may request a hearing to appeal the decision," Jacobs said. "This request may be made orally or in writing to the superintendent at his office."

In addition, Jacobs said the school district's formal free lunch and reduced price lunch policy statement and the procedure to be followed when a decision is appealed are on file in each principal's office and may be reviewed by any interested person.

Jacobs said students receiving free lunches have been encouraged to pay for them by working around the school.

For a quick family lunch or informal picnic, make Ham 'N' Cheese Rolls. Fill hot-dog buns with diced ham and Swiss cheese in a lively sour cream dressing, spiked with olives and green onions. Serve with mugs of cold milk.

A New Sandwich Idea

It's National Sandwich month and a new sandwich idea is always welcome, especially this time of year. With the end of summer's picnic season and the look toward back-to-school lunch routine, sandwiches are on the menu often.

So here's a fresh one to add to your sandwich recipe collection

Canyon Man Graduates

Airman Ralph H. Neuman, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Neuman, 200 N. 14th St., Canyon, Tex., has been graduated at Chant AFB, Ill. from the U.S. Air Force instrument systems equipment specialist course, conducted by the Air Training Command.

Airman Neuman, who studied the operation and maintenance of flight instruments, is being assigned to Sheppard AFB, Tex., for duty. He will serve with a unit of the Air Training Command which provides flying, technical and basic military training for U. S. Air Force personnel.

The airman is a 1971 graduate of Canyon High School.

— Ham 'N' Cheese Rolls.
This sandwich will please youngsters because it's got some of their favorite foods in it — ham, cheese and hot-dog buns.

The filling can be made up early in the day, even the night before. It's a simple mixture of left-over cooked ham, cut into cubes, diced Swiss cheese, chopped eggs and a sour cream salad dressing. While dairy sour cream has its own bright, tangy flavor, this recipe adds extra zip with chopped green onions, stuffed olives and a dash of mustard. The whole sandwich can be assembled in advance, right down to toasting and buttering the buns, spooning the filling inside and wrapping it all in aluminum foil.

At lunch time, just pop those foil-wrapped rolls into the oven long enough to heat through. The flavors are even better when they have time to blend and mellow. And this sandwich is packed with good nutrition as well as flavor. Both cheese and sour cream supply valuable milk protein and other food elements.

Ham 'N' Cheese Rolls make a pleasing family lunch; just add relishes to nibble and plenty of refreshing milk to drink. They're fine fare for an autumn picnic.

too. Carry along the wrapped sandwiches in your picnic basket or cooler, and heat them on the charcoal grill.

HAM 'N' CHEESE ROLLS

8 frankfurter rolls, split
1/2 cup (1/2 stick) butter, melted
1/2 cups (1/2 lb.) cooked ham, cut in 1/2-inch cubes
1 cup (4 oz.) diced Swiss cheese
1/2 cup sliced green onions
1/2 cup sliced pimiento-stuffed olives

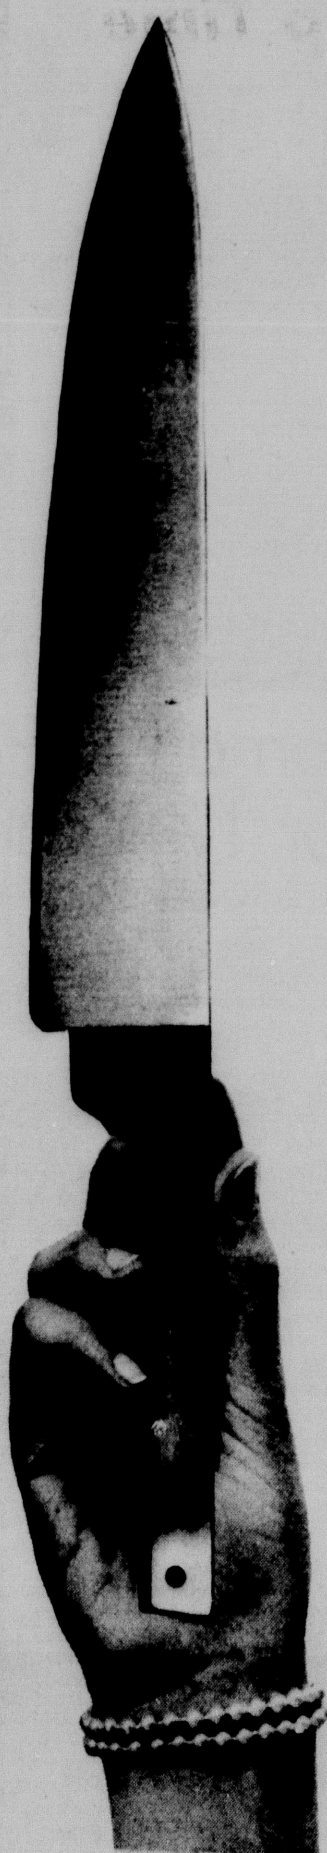

2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
1/2 cup dairy sour cream
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1/2 teaspoon salt

Brush cut sides of rolls with melted butter; place on baking sheet and toast under broiler. In a bowl lightly toss ham, cheese, onions, olives and eggs. Combine sour cream, mustard and salt; gently blend into cheese mixture. Divide mixture onto bottom half of rolls (approx. 1/3 cup per roll); cover with top; wrap in aluminum foil. (If desired, these sandwiches may be prepared a few hours before serving time, wrapped in foil and kept in the refrigerator until ready to heat before serving.) Heat in preheated 350 degree oven, 15-20 minutes or until warmed through. Makes 8 sandwiches.

Gene Howe News Wallises Return from Canada

By TROYCE MULHERIN
GREETINGS:

WAYNE AND JEANNE Wallis and children, Kendra and Marty, have returned from a journey to Calgary, Alberta, Canada. Jay Wallis and wife, Evelyn, and children, Larry, Jaylene and Donna, of Lefors, joined the Amarillo Wallises on the sojourn, covering over 3500 miles. Each family pulled its own travel trailer and were quite impressed with the number of Texans they met in the various camps they stayed in during their trip. En route to Canada, the group drove through some breathtaking mountain country on the way to Cody, Wyoming.

WHILE IN CODY, the Wallises toured the Buffalo Bill Historical Center. They timed their stay in Canada to coincide with the 60th Anniversary of the Calgary Stampede celebration. The Calgary Stampede is one of the most spectacular of all Western rodeos, in which top performers take part. The Wallises particularly enjoyed the Chuck wagon and the thoroughbred horse racing. When the rodeo and races were over, young Canadians pulled a portable stage onto the rodeo arena, and the travelers were treated to a musical program, various comedy acts, and a huge fireworks display. The Wallises were intrigued with the Indian dance contests. Participants came from all parts of the country and wore traditional costumes. Entries were eliminated by strict rules and regulations with the judging being quite exact.

THE GROUP ALSO spent some time at Lake Louise, which is about 70 miles from Calgary. Jeanne said the scenery was stunning and well worth the extra miles on the speedometer. They stayed in Glacier National Park in Montana, in Yellowstone National Park and The Grand Teton National Park in Wyoming on their way back home. All in all, it was a fantastic trip for the Wallises, and one they will be reliving for a long time to come.

DARLYNE BELL COULD have made a comparatively similar trip considering the mileage put on her car during the baseball season. All three sons, Mike, Monte and Donnie, made all-stars in their respective leagues and Mike's team won championship, and as you baseball parents know, making those games entails a lot of driving.

THE BILL PHILLIPS family enjoyed their stay at Mink Haven Lodge in Antonito, Colorado. The Conejos River being conveniently handy, they got some fishing in. Margie says she broke her record, did not catch one fish. Heretofore she has always caught one fish. They joined some friends there and caught up on some much needed rest and learned a lot of new card games. Bill compensated for Margie's fishing luck and contributed his fair share to a big fish fry before heading home to school starting.

THOSE MAGIC WORDS "school starting"—beautiful and welcomed words. Only eighteen, count them, eighteen days until the First Day of School. Gene Howe students will register on the 17th of August. A through K people will register from 8:30 to 12:00; and L through Z students register from 1:30 to 4:00. Early registration for students new to Gene Howe will start August 2. Parents with children attending Gene Howe for the first time might want to call the office at 355-6501 and let them know you're coming.

TOGETHER WITH OTHER face-lifting and final touches in preparation for the onslaught of anxious students, the stage floor has been sanded and revarnished—looks like new. A much-welcomed and needed kindergarten class will become a part of Gene Howe's composition, too. This class has already been filled with aspiring scholars and Carol Hollingsworth is scheduled as their instructor. Welcome class and welcome Mrs. Hollingsworth!

WELCOME BACK TO Mrs. Mary Jo Smith, who will resume her teaching career at Gene Howe this year.

CORRECTION—THE DIFFERENCE between junior high and high school is much more important to those involved. It was mistakenly reported last week that Sherry Ford will act as twirler for Canyon Junior High—Sherry will act as twirler for Canyon High. Sorry about that slight (?) error, Sherry.

HAPPY ANNIVERSARY to Dick and Beth Dalke on the 6th.

THE DAVE CORONADOS have returned from the races at Raton and from a pleasant camping trip to Tres Ritos. Their trip had added enjoyment upon the arrival of the T. R. Staffords, the Jim Rileys, the Bobby Hulseys and the Gene Bettys—all on different days. The group had a fine time riding their cycles on the trails and drinking in the beauty of the scenery.

PETE AND ADA Solbrig have been entertaining friends and relatives on a full schedule these past few weeks. Mr. and Mrs. George Hahne of Dodge City, Kansas, have been visiting in the Solbrig home, as has Mrs. Sid (Evelyn) Pate and her children from Escondido, California. Ada's mommie and daddy, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Mears enjoyed their visit, too. Mr. Mears recently celebrated his birthday and he and Mrs. Mears were feted with a dinner party in observance of their 48th wedding anniversary. These festivities were held at the Mears' home in Vega, with many friends and family members joining in for the fun.

REGRET TO REPORT that the Gene Howe area has lost some fine people who have moved to where the fun is. The Elvis Tyler family will have taken up residence at Possum Kingdom when you are reading this. The Tylers were given an opportunity to fulfill their retirement plans a wee bit early and took advantage of the opportunity. The family will manage the marina and lodge located on the lake on a year-around basis, with hunting in the winter months and fishing and water sports for summer people. Along with their other chores, they will operate a small cafe and a supply store. Curtis, Sherry and Brenda will attend school in Graham. The Tyler family is very enthusiastic about the move and looking forward to having playtime and worktime wrapped up in one neat package. Sorry to lose this fine family, but wish them only the best and success in their endeavors.

MR. AND MRS. Hugh Cowser of Enid, Oklahoma, have been the recent houseguest of Don and Raydell Palmer, taking time out from a family reunion in Palo Duro to spend a few days with the Palmers.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO Weldell Trammell, who celebrated on the 31st. The Trammells have recently returned from a stay in Red River, New Mexico. Linda said the children, Donnie, Chris and Jennifer were quite taken with the fish at the hatchery out of Red River. Some of the fish were bigger than Jennifer who is just ten months old. They also toured the Indian Villages on their visit to Taos. Back home to do some remodeling around the homestead.

LORI MCNABB CELEBRATED her 9th birthday with a slumber party. Her happy was on the 31st and we wish you many more, Lori.

LISA ERWIN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Erwin, spent part of the weekend visiting and horse riding with Kendra Wallis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Wallis. The good times these girls enjoyed could cause some of us to yearn for childhood fun again.

MR. AND MRS. Gene Bural and their four sons have returned from The Lake of the Ozarks near Camdenot, Missouri. They pulled their boat and camped out, tent and all. The hot and humid weather encouraged them to cut their vacation short, but not before Dale and Kevin learned to ski on one ski (each). Wesley and Mark took to the resort life like bees to honey and got some skiing in, too. Mark was the reluctant recipient of nine swats on his birthday on the 2nd.

PRETTY NEW FACE in the Gene Howe area belongs to Lori Rudd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rudd. Lori has been living and working in California; and, when the Rudds returned from a recent trip to California, they brought Lori home with them. She will be continuing her education this fall at West Texas State University. While in California the Rudds took Terry on their annual pilgrimage to Disney Land, and reportedly enjoyed this visit just as much, if not more, than the ones previously. They visited with Barbara's mother, Mrs. Fern Foster, in Los Angeles for a week. Then on to New Port with Barbara's sister, Sue Gilbert. They rented a summer home at New Port and spent their days lolling around on the beach, taking in the sun and surf for a week.

OUR FEARLESS leader's lovely bride is busily setting their new home in order at 8412 Olympia. Brenda and Luther Lawless are pleased to be located close to Gene Howe School, and we are happy to have them residing in our territory.

ERNESTINE HARP WILL make her appearance in this time slot next week. Many of you will remember that Ernestine wrote the Gene Howe News some years ago (she won't say how many); so, she's not new to the game. Know you will enjoy reading her guest column—even more so, if you will call her your news at 355-0028.

THANKS FOR THE use of the hall, and thank you, School Board, for August 21st. Troyce.

Guilty Plea Nets Fine

Robert Earl Lakey pleaded guilty Tuesday to a charge of possession of a dangerous drug before Randall County Judge Woody Pond.

Pond assessed a fine of $150 plus court costs and a sentence of 30 days in jail probated for six months.

Surrounded by trophies, Rick Lyles of 410 Taylor Lane, proudly stands by his new Penton 100 motorcycle. Sixteen-year-old Rick also races a Hodaka 100 in short-track events.

Local Boys Ride Cycles To Bring Home Trophies

While bicycle fever seems to have invaded Canyon, several local boys have been bringing home trophies for the more "powerful" sport of motorcycle racing.

Sixteen-year-olds Jamie Walker and Joe Moss of the Palisades and Ricky Lyles of 410 Taylor Lane won a total of seven trophies in recent races.

Ricky, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lyles, races a new 100 Penton in motocross and a 100 Hodaka in short track racing. Rick recently won two third-places in motocross at the Amarillo Speedbowl, bringing his total to twenty trophies.

Rick rides his short-tracker at the newly-opened Panhandle Downs, a mile west of U-barger.

This past week Rick has worked to repair his Penton seat and fiberglass gas tank, which were "torn up" at the Lubbock races last weekend.

"I like both motocross and short track racing, but I guess I really like to race motocross best," Rick said.

Rick finds time to work on his cycles in the evenings after working at a local gas station in the mornings and afternoons.

Jamie Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Walker of the Palisades, won second in the TT-scrabbles and first and fourth in motocross at the Amarillo Speedbowl recently.

With his new 100 Penton, Jamie also won a second place at Clarendon Greenbelt racing

Mike Voelm Farewelled At Club Fete

Friends of Mike Voelm gave him a "going away" swimming party at the Canyon Country Club last Sunday evening. Voelm left for a period of service with the Navy yesterday.

Hamburgers and hot dogs, chips, punch, nut cups, cake and orange-pineapple ice cones were served from the serving table decorated in colors of red, white, and blue.

Those in attendance were Pam Jolly, Leslie Baird, Terry Jo Reynolds, Kevin McClish, Becky Miller, Rodney Collier, Sheri Stribling, Sharon Hinders, Ruby Ratliff, Wayne Ramsey, Kenny Barton, Hoss Ratliff, Gary Reynolds, Jeannine Bewley, Tom Giffert, Dana Oliver, Mike Jolly, Steve Baird, Carla Ratliff, David Hinders, and the honoree's parents Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Voelm and sister Patricia.

"When I was young and married and didn't have much to do, I wrote to the two ladies asking for pen pals in a farm journal magazine," explained Mrs. Davis.

Mrs. Davis' correspondence with Mrs. Gillespie continued until the post office returned a letter with the information that the 84-year-old woman had died. "She had no family and had been in a wheelchair since 1917, so that our correspondence probably meant a lot to her," Mrs. Davis related.

"She did not share much with me about any relatives and mostly wrote about the weather or her plants. One time she was robbed, and the stationery and stamps I sent her were taken too," Mrs. Davis said.

Unlike the Louisiana woman, Mrs. Wilcox wrote Mrs. Davis about her family and shared experiences about her work for a California Baptist mission.

Mrs. Davis, who is also Baptist, said, "Mrs. Wilcox always shares her love and a prayer blessing in her letters, which have meant a lot to me."

On June 18, Mrs. Davis received a quilt from Mrs. Wilcox, who used to make many quilts for the California mission. Mrs. Davis had sent Mrs. Wilcox quilt scraps for her projects.

recently. Jamie said he usually races every weekend, often with his family accompanying him to Perryton, Lubbock or Clarendon.

"Motocross is supposed to be the second most physically demanding sport in the world (soccer is the first)," explained Jamie.

He added that he has won six trophies in the past three weeks and had already garnered five on his old motorcycle.

Jamie works part time at an

Amarillo grocery store and said he usually works on his Penton the Friday and Saturday nights before races.

Jamie's neighbor, Joe Moss came in first in the TT-scrabbles and fifth in motocross last Sunday on his Penton 125.

Another Palisades resident, Randy Carthel, not only races but also works in an Amarillo motorcycle shop.

The Canyon area seems to be well represented with winners at the growing number of area motorcycle races.

Mrs. Bettie Davis of 2512 9th Ave. holds letters and a quilt received from her pen pal of 17 years, Mrs. Maggie Wilcox of Marysville, Calif.

Woman Is Pen Pal For 17 Years Here

By LINDA LOCKETT

The post office in Marysville, Calif. has been sorting letters from a Canyon woman for 17 years.

Mrs. Bettie Davis of 2512 9th Ave. has been a pen pal of 77-year-old Maggie Wilcox for about 17 years, and she also wrote Mrs. Winnie Gillespie of Baton Rouge, La., until Mrs. Gillespie died two years ago.

"When I was young and married and didn't have much to do, I wrote to the two ladies asking for pen pals in a farm journal magazine," explained Mrs. Davis.

Mrs. Davis' correspondence with Mrs. Gillespie continued until the post office returned a letter with the information that the 84-year-old woman had died. "She had no family and had been in a wheelchair since 1917, so that our correspondence probably meant a lot to her," Mrs. Davis related.

"She did not share much with me about any relatives and mostly wrote about the weather or her plants. One time she was robbed, and the stationery and stamps I sent her were taken too," Mrs. Davis said.

Unlike the Louisiana woman, Mrs. Wilcox wrote Mrs. Davis about her family and shared experiences about her work for a California Baptist mission.

Mrs. Davis, who is also Baptist, said, "Mrs. Wilcox always shares her love and a prayer blessing in her letters, which have meant a lot to me."

On June 18, Mrs. Davis received a quilt from Mrs. Wilcox, who used to make many quilts for the California mission. Mrs. Davis had sent Mrs. Wilcox quilt scraps for her projects.

"We write each other about grandchildren and children, marriages and new homes," said Mrs. Davis.

When asked if she knew what Mrs. Wilcox looked like, Mrs. Davis said she did not but had a mental image.

Mrs. Davis said she sends Mrs. Wilcox a "big, fat Christmas letter" with her boys' pictures, a letter at Easter and one when any "momentous event occurs."

One such event will occur Aug. 18 as 18-year-old Dwight Davis will marry.

Along with preparations for the wedding and her correspondence, Mrs. Davis has found time to work on her masters degree in education at West Texas State University, refinish old furniture and take care of Lesley, 14, and Doug, 10.

Mrs. Davis teaches the educable-mentally retarded at Amarillo Sunrise School.

Eyes sparkling with pride over her students, Mrs. Davis said, "I am content with small rewards from my students, and I could never go back to regular teaching."

"My students give me their all, and I must always remember to 'gear down' for them," she said. Describing herself as the "mother hen type," Mrs. Davis said "her chicks" follow her around and try hard, which is her real take-home pay.

When not taking care of her husband Louie and children, Mrs. Davis can be found refishing old roll-top desks and iceboxes—or teaching her special children—or preparing for weddings—or working for a masters degree—or making a California woman's life a little brighter by writing another letter.

Appearances Set At WT

Programs suited for all tastes—from classical music to Dixieland jazz, from foreign diplomats to movie personalities—are booked for the 1972-1973 West Texas State University Special Programs series.

Dr. John Green, chairman of the Special Programs committee announced that six presentations will be offered on the series this year, with remaining program funds going to partially finance special offerings presented by individual departments.

All programs are scheduled at 8 p.m. in the Activities Center Ballroom.

Opening the series on Sept. 14 will be DeJans Olympia Brass Band. The 10-member New Orleans ensemble is booked from Preservation Hall of New Orleans, renowned for its distinctive brand of Black jazz and blues. Highlighting the performance will be a pre-concert parade in which the Southern minstrels will march around the campus, ending the procession at the Activities Center, where they will perform in concert in the ballroom.

Scheduled Oct. 10 will be an informal "rap session" with famed basketball titan and sports announcer Bill Russell. The first player-coach in the history of the Boston Celtics, Russell was the first black to manage full-time in a major league of any sport. He was named "Sportsman of the Year" by Sports Illustrated in 1968, and in 1970 was cited as "Athlete of the Decade."

Concluding the fall series on Nov. 1, will be the Dorian Quintet, resident woodwind ensemble at Brooklyn and Hunter Colleges of New York City. The group has concertized all over the world and currently holds the position of University-Wide Artists-in-Residence for the entire State University of New York.

The ensemble's clarinetist, Jerry Kirkbride, is a former student of Dr. Green, and Dr. Gary Garner, professor of music at WTSU.

The spring season opener on Feb. 12 will be a lecture by Pauline Frederick, NBC United Nations Correspondent. Now in her 14th year with NBC, Miss Frederick holds 13 honorary degrees and numerous awards for her outstanding work in broadcast journalism. From the UN she has reported on upheavals in Korea, the Suez, Hungary, the Middle East, Laos, the Congo, Cuba and the Dominican Republic, as well as on the Nuremberg trials and national political conventions and elections.

All scheduled programs were selected by a five-member committee consisting of Dr. Green, Miss Elizabeth Davidson, assistant professor of history; Kenneth H. Olsen, assistant professor of business; Mrs. Jean Roberts, associate dean of student life for women, and Charles E. Wright, associate professor of biology.

superintendent of Petersburg public schools Monday.

He was emphasizing his agreement with the philosophy of the Opportunity Plan, Inc., and Milton Morris, executive vice-president of OPI.

"This is what OPI is all about: it helps a kid help himself, and I've seen dozens of kids go on to school and make good because of the Opportunity Plan," Wilson continued.

Morris was in Petersburg Monday to interview student applicants for OPI, and to meet with the board of directors of the Petersburg Community Division. Since its beginning in 1967, that Division has sponsored 21 students in various schools on the OPI, and will add to that number by three or four for the 1972 fall semester, possibly sending new students to WTSU, TSTI, and Amarillo College.

Wilson had worked with Morris directly on the Opportunity Plan, Inc. staff for a year, and he boasted that the OPI philosophy "really took with me." Many of the civic organizations in Petersburg, he explained, which formerly gave scholarships to high school graduates, now contribute those monies to the OPI through the Petersburg Division. Other monies are received as memorials, while many are solicited as annual memberships.

"Petersburg Division is one of the finest community groups in the organization," Morris declares. Chairman of the board of directors, L. K. Gregory, is a civic-minded farmer whose children are past school age, but who is anxious to help provide challenges for other students in his community. Morris praised the total cooperation of school officials and civic members in Petersburg.

Morris has returned to Canyon after a week's junket into the towns of Muleshoe, Hereford, Bovina, Happy, Hale Center, Tulia and Abernathy. A new community division was organized last week in Abernathy with a start of $1800.

WT Coaches, Big Brothers Team On Golf

West Texas State University's football coaches will join with the Big Brothers of Amarillo Aug. 12 to sponsor an open golf tournament at Ross Rogers Golf Course in Amarillo.

Gary McDade of Big Brothers said the tournament is open to all comers.

The WTSU coaches will be playing along with local celebrities in the benefit for Big Brothers.

A $20 entry fee will be charged. McDade said the money will go to the Amarillo group for financing other Big Brother projects.

Registration will be accepted by mail through Aug. 7 at the Big Brothers office.

Winners of the tournament will receive $100 apiece plus various merchandise donated by Amarillo and Canyon merchants. Season tickets to home WT games will also be given away.

McDade said Big Brothers of Amarillo now helps about 100 boys, but with adequate funding could reach as many as 400 more in this area.

Umbarger Garage Sale Set

BY SUSAN DOLLE

DO YOU HAVE any picture frames, lawn mowers, or duck decoys that are taking up space around your home? There is a great place to take them—the Umbarger Community Association will be holding a garage sale next Saturday, August 12 in the school gym.

LOTS OF ITEMS are needed to make the benefit sale a successful one; all donations will be appreciated. However, if you have furniture or other more expensive items that you want to sell, the association will handle them for a 10% commission.

THE GARAGE SALE will be held from 9:00 a.m. until 11:00 a.m.—It is hoped there will be a large turnout of buyers from the surrounding areas, so many items will be needed. Donors can bring the items to the gym any night next week; a committee will be there to display and price them.

ASSOCIATION MEMBERS who will be heading committees are Mr. and Mrs. L.L. Raef, display and pricing; Mrs. Jim Skarke, food; Vincent Meyer, Sr., clean up; and Melvin Wieck, signs.

TIME IS SHORT. The sale is 10 days away. Locate your items and bring them to the gym next week. Your neighbor might have some good junk that you could swap for some of yours.

PROCEEDS FROM THE day's sale will be used for the activities of the Community Association.

 AND PISTOLS Square Dancing Club is planning a picnic and evening of dancing at Buffalo Lake August 20. Basket lunches will be served at 6:30 and dancing will begin at 7:30. The club will hold its regular dance this Sunday evening at 8:00 in the parish hall, Susan Lindemann, club sweetheart, will be presented at the Sweetheart Dance in Canyon this Saturday evening at the Activities Center on the WTSU campus.

 THE HABIT OF getting into the car in the garage became not so commonplace to Patricia Batenhorst last week when she heard the buzz for the key and a rattling simultaneously.

IN THE GARAGE, she found a rattlesnake standing tall and proud. The snake was determined to be about three years old by Patricia's dad, Sylvester, even though it sported thirteen buttons. It will be a while before Patricia goes into the garage without thinking about that snake.

 MR. AND MRS. Bernard Wilhelm and children Danny, Janet, Gerald, and Edwin traveled to Yellowstone Park last week. They also visited Elmer Friemel at Ft. Lyons, Colo. before returning home Thursday.

MR. AND MRS. Sylvester Batenhorst and daughter Jane and niece Donna visited the John Voerwalds in Salida, Colo. and toured Denver for three days. They returned home last week.

Christopher is the Wirt's second grandson.

Scott Pool, Amarillo senior at West Texas State University, shows the proper hand grip to Kir Farquhar and Robert Fox of Midland during the first day of the West Texas Tennis Camp on the university campus. Kindergarten Will Expand

Canyon schools' kindergarten program will expand to Gene Howe Elementary School beginning this fall.

The pre-school program is aimed for what authorities term "educationally handicapped children."

School Supt. Jerry Jacobs said Tuesday the Gene Howe kindergarten program will include about 20 children.

A similar program has been underway at Rex Reeves Elementary in Canyon since the 1970-71 school year, which it was first required by the state.

Twenty students are also expected to be enrolled at Rex Reeves this fall.

Jacobs said possible students for the kindergarten program were screened last spring by faculty representatives.

Beginning with the 1973 school year, the school district kindergarten program will be open to any students in the district without qualification. They must be between the ages of 5 years and seven months and six years.

Gradually, the age group allowed to attend will be expanded until any children between 5 and 6 will be allowed into kindergarten in 1977.

The Gene Howe program this fall will be taught by Mrs. Hollingsworth.

HELLO AGAIN FROM the little ole neighborhood on the west side of the Amarillo expressway. Will share with you some of the happenings out our way this week.

THERE ARE THREE families fairly new to our neighborhood and we'd like to introduce them to our readers. They are the Stanley Simons, the Garner Lees and the William Janelles. Welcome to you all.

Fall Training Next Week

Football season is getting closer and fall training is only two weeks away for Canyon High School's Eagles.

Coach Ron Mills, who is looking for a standout team this year, said Eagle players will be issued shoes and socks from 9-10:30 a.m. and 2-9 p.m. Aug. 9 at the school dressing room.

Then, on Aug. 14, the Eagles will begin fall conditioning. Mills said the team will go through regular workouts without equipment and without contact. Workouts will be each day from 9-10:30 a.m. and from 7-9 p.m. until school begins.

Equipment will be issued on Aug. 18 and contact work will begin for the team on that day.

The Eagles will play their first scrimmage against Roswell Goddard at Friona on Aug. 25.

Another scrimmage will be played against Friona at Friona on Sept. 1.

Then, just a week later, the Eagles begin their 1972 football season against Spearman.

Local Man At Camp

Ft. Riley, Kan.—Cadet Philip L. Moore, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy N. Moore, Route 3, Comanche, Tex., is receiving practical work in military leadership at the Army Reserve Officers Training Corps Advanced Summer Camp at Ft. Riley, Kan., from June 17-July 28.

Cadet Moore, who received a B.S. degree from West Texas State University, Canyon, this year, is one of more than 10,000 students attending Army ROTC training at six installations in the U.S.

The six-week ROTC Advanced Camp provides an opportunity for cadets to develop and demonstrate leadership capabilities in a field training environment. The instruction supplements theories and concepts which cadets learned in the classroom on campus.

Cadets normally attend the training between their junior and senior years. This enables them to better comprehend their final year of classroom work and to function as cadet leaders on campus.

The cadet is a 1966 graduate of Breckenridge (Tex.) High School. He and his wife, Edie, live at 2107 Sixth Ave., Canyon, Tex.

Palisades Palaver

Garage Raising Held At Molyneaux's

BY VICKI HOOKER

A "GARAGE RAISING" took place at Russ and Wanda Molyneaux's Sunday, and concluded with a scrumptious bar-b-que beef meal enjoyed by all. The Molyneaux's are finishing up their Palisades home so they can eventually move into it permanently. Helping Russ in the endeavor have been neighbors Gerald Seitz, Charlie Hooker, Randy Hooker, Stan Hooker, and Mark McGahey. Later Sunday night Joe and Louise Lovan joined the group and while the women visited in the unfinished garage, the men were busy playing pool in the house. Charlie claims he beat everyone, but I'd imagine we'd get a different story from Russ, Gerald and Joe!

MANY THANKS to our neighbors, Dan, Carolyn and Brent Bailey, who took the time Sunday afternoon to mow and cut weeds around the outside of our gate. It certainly looks neater, and we all appreciate the Bailey's efforts.

"CALIFORNIA OR BUST" could have been the slogan of Ernest and Margie Carlile's recent journey to Earnest's brother's, Ewel, who lives 50 miles north of Sacramento. Travelling with the Carliles were Earnest's two sisters, one from Dumas and the other from Amarillo.

ON THE WAY, they enjoyed such sites as the Hoover Dam, Grand Canyon Caverns in Arizona, and Stovepipe Wells Village in Death Valley, then through the beautiful mountain country (over which Margie had the dubious privilege of driving) in California.

ON THE WAY home they took a different route and visited such points of interest as the "World Famous Hole in the Rock Home" in Mohab, Utah, and Wolf Creek Pass in Colorado.

(Margie drove over that one too!) The pass, which is 16 miles long, is full of winding turns, and Margie said driving it was an experience, to say the least! But we're certainly glad they had a safe trip and are home again.

THE OTHER Carlile family, Buster and Marcella, left last Tuesday for a vacation to Indianapolis, where they will view the Micro-Midget races. Lot more on that when they return.

DOUG AND GREG Moore, sons of Jarriel and Nell Moore, are enjoying the company of cousins Chris and Carmel Moore, who are visiting them this week from McClean. Greg and Chris are near the same age, and so are Doug and Carmel. But Nell has found out that when it comes to the children playing together, their ages play a very small part when three males and one female are involved!

ELLI BOOTHE returned to work last Monday after being ill with a virus for two weeks. Apparently Elli is feeling much better now, however she is still pretty weak. So glad to hear you are up and around again, Elli, and we hope you stay well!

RANDY CARTEL proved his riding ability to be superb again last Saturday night at the Amarillo Civic Center Coliseum. In the third race of the money heats he placed third, and in the Feature race of the main events he placed second. Good going, Randy. We like to see that kind of racing coming from you!

OUR NEIGHBORS, the Jeffers, will be moving soon to Washburn. We hate to see them go, but this will put Mr. Jeffers closer to his work. They do not know the exact date when they'll be leaving so more on that later when they find out.

BOARD MEMBERS, don't forget board meeting Tuesday night, August 8 at 7:30 at Bob Walker's. And Palisades residents, if you have a grievance, or something to discuss, please feel free to attend the meeting, too!

SPEAKING OF MEETINGS, Nell Moore said the first Gene Howe PTA Board Meeting will be Tuesday, August 8, 2:00 p.m. at the school. My, where has the summer gone?

ALSO, OUR FIRST Home Demonstration Club meeting will be September 7. Don't know where or when yet, but I can hardly wait to see everyone again and find out about their summer vacations!

IF YOU DON'T read "Palisades Palaver" in next week's paper it's because I will have gone to Dallas. If you have news though, please call me and I'll do my best to get it in. See ya!

Lake Tanglewood News

WEDDING BELLS can be heard ringing from all sides of the lake this week! Richard Don Shawgo, whose mother owns a lot on the lake will tie the knot with Jody Thomas on August 4 at the First Presbyterian Church of Amarillo. Richard is the nephew of Lawrence and Claudine Van Doran.

A SUNRISE wedding ceremony will take place August 5 at Ken and Paula Hanna's. Their daughter, Alana, will be married to Bob Hogan at 6:58 a.m. After their honeymoon they will reside in Houston.

A MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER was given at the home of Mary Morris July 22 for Pam Hunter and Alan Fletcher. The shower, which was a come-and-go affair, was hosted by Mrs. Morris, Paula Hanna and Fran Klein. Pam and Alan will be married on the 18th.

WE'RE GLAD to hear Miles Hanna is doing better after his run-in with a storm door. No details are available, but Miles had 17 stitches taken in his arm!

GENE AND FRAN Klein have gone to San Diego with Arnette Brown to pick up her husband, Irl, and son Webb at a summer camp there. Gene has been travelling a lot lately! He recently returned from an eleven-day trip to Colorado. His four grandsons, Keith, David, Gene and John accompanied him on the tour.

THAT'S ALL for this time! Please, Please, turn in your news to Claudine Van Doran! She's beginning to feel a little neglected and is considering quitting her job as news gatherer! We can't have that, now can we? So give her a buzz at 622-1681, this week!

Neighbors Share Summer Fun

By TOOTIE BYBEE

HELLO THERE, YOU-all, and how are you this week?? Guess you have realized by now that our wonderful fun filled summer is very rapidly coming to an end. Sure do hate that. If you haven't quite faced up to it, I bet those kiddoes of yours have!! All good times must come to an end, but school will be another adventure for them all.

HAD LOTS OF neighbors busy this past week and wanted to tell you about a few of them.

ONE OF THE most pleasant things happened this week. Was shopping out at Sears and was getting ready to leave and a man asked if I was the lady who wrote for the Canyon News. Said I sure was and he introduced himself as one of our good neighbors and it sure made my day. So, a very big hello to Mr. and Mrs. Hinson on Mescalero Trail in their own house, as I was trying to place them in another house on down the street. Sure was nice to meet and get acquainted with you. Told me he had been over and met one of our new neighbors who bought the Burdette's house and they are the Garrisons. So, get by and welcome them at your first opportunity. Bet they would be real happy to meet you.

THE EVANS TOOK the young people from their Church down to Palo Duro Canyon for the day Sunday and had car trouble getting back and missed night church. But they all reported having a very nice time together.

WAS BY TO see the Whitehead's new den carpet and it was so pretty and the room is just beautiful. The new baby, Rebecca is really growing and is so sweet. Saw Roger dashing by on his motor with, Shelley, Spooky and Rosemary all hanging on at different spots.

WELL, THE BOREN'S got moved Saturday and hated to see them go. But we have a new family moved in there. It sounds like among the better ones in the nation.

Louisville and New Mexico State were established as preseason conference favorites. This will be the first season for New Mexico State to compete for the conference title. The reason for the strong Aggie pick is the fact the team from New Mexico defeated all four of the conference teams it faced last year—Drake, West Texas State, Wichita State and North Texas State.

In order to give it five conference games, New Mexico State's game with New Mexico will also be counted toward the league title. The Aggies, with nine offensive starters returning this fall, tied New Mexico, 35-35, last year.

Other teams, in order, are Memphis State, Tulsa, Drake, North Texas State, West Texas State and Wichita State.

Comments from the coaches are as follows:

Lee Corso, Louisville—"In our last 18 games, our record is 13-3-2 and two of those losses were at the hands of Missouri Valley teams. I respect these men (other MVC coaches) and their players. We are a title contender as we have a good team and good players. We play four of our five conference games at home in Astromud. That is the same as other artificial surfaces, except it sticks to your shoes when it rains. We are going to be on a New York Television show Aug. 14 as one of the nation's top 20 teams. We talk about our offense at Louisville, but we coach and teach defense. We have led the conference for two years in four departments of defense."

Rod Rust, North Texas State—"I've been a head coach in this conference since 1967 and the league has gotten tougher each year as all of the teams have improved. The addition of West Texas State to the league last year and New Mexico State this year has made the conference stronger and the race more meaningful. We anticipate a good squad this fall. We have three junior quarterbacks and feel we can have a contender with any of the three. The freshman rule will be of some help to us as some of the first year players could add depth to our team. We play four of our five home games in Texas Stadium. We hit bottom last fall with a 3-8 record and will be rebounding upward."

Fred Pancoast, Memphis State—"If I can coach football as well as Mickey Holmes runs this conference, I'll be a success. I was hired at Memphis State eight days before the start of spring training, but we were still able to have some good sessions. Our players appeared to be willing to pay the price to be good. We must play well against the Valley teams in order to have a good season. Those teams appear to be we really have a turn over in our residents out here and I guess we do.

MRS. PATTERSON WAS by and brought Sam a jar of fresh strawberry jelly for his breakfast and told me she was looking for Toby and his little family in. She sounded so anxious to see them all. Said she had made the grandbaby a new red and white ruffled suit. Hope they enjoy the visit.

GLAD TO HAVE Kay and Karen Tow back from their visit with their Aunt and Uncle and cousin Terry in Fort Worth. They went to Seven Seas and really enjoyed it. Guess Traca Ann is glad to see Kay back, too.

LOOKS LIKE THE Buckle's boys have a new play toy in the garage. I don't know what the thing is called but it sure has a heck of a lot of wheels to roll around on. I know it isn't a dune buggy because Larry Pate just got him one of those and I see him putting around in it and it looks all together different.

I HOPE NO one thinks I am a bird brain! I love birds just a lot and have you all noticed the number of birds around this year. So very many mockingbirds, kingbirds and so on. Those little creatures are so helpful to our gardens and environment so please aim those B-B guns somewhere else. Saw just a bunch of dead meadowlarks, beautiful yellow breast just full of holes. Just made me so unhappy.

HAVE YOU SEEN the Jones' new puppy? His name is Big Bert and he is poodle and Terrier and he is a fluffy doll. I noticed that Doug kinda liked him a little bit.

SAW A LOT of you out this past week just enjoying the sunshine and lovely world God made. Saw Barbara Evans mowing the lawn (did I say enjoying!!) Saw Matt Malson and Lee Boren playing in the garage and saw Denise on the tower Matt built. Saw Mr. Shevink mowing the lawn and Mr. Woods working in his lovely yard. Saw Mr. Cook looking very tired and working in his yard. Saw Mikie and Melody Morgan jumping on the trampoline. Nothing is more fun than a wet tramping on a hot day. Saw Glenna and Sherry taking a hike with the doggies. Saw the Robertson boys enjoying their motorcycles and Mrs. Robertson enjoying her bicycle. Saw Bo Fowlkes mowing the yard with their guest helping. Saw Jubal and Tracy Gillis having a good time on their bikes. Just saw everyone picking beans, peas, and okra this week.

WELL MUST SIGN off now. ONE LAST WORD: To I. J. Tow: I have been spending these last few weeks trying to think of something to say back to you concerning the reward about my pup. Sad to say you have the last word this time as I can't come up with a "dog-gone thing."

HEY WORLD, I'm waiting to hear from you.

Woman's Son Wins Award

Sandy Cable, son of Mrs. Duard Earhart of 205 5th Ave., recently won two Future Farmers of America awards.

Shortly before his May graduation, Cable won the state FFA Lone Star Award and the DeKalb Outstanding Senior Award from the Cal Farley's Boys Ranch FFA Chapter.

The latter award was the highest chapter honor a senior could receive and was awarded for leadership ability, good attitude and hard work.

During his three years in the FFA, Cable trained and broke horses, branded cattle, operated and repaired farm machinery and performed other chores in the Ranch's agriculture program.

The Boys Ranch Roundup noted that more importantly, Cable's accomplishments inspired other boys to high goals because he has only one arm.

Cable participated in all intramural sports and was a contestant in four rodeos, riding bareback on broncs and Brahma bulls.

Cable is now employed at Dupriest Datsun in Amarillo.

MVC Coaches, Officials Talk Of Unity And Stronger Image

TULSA—Missouri Valley Conference football coaches followed the lead of their new commissioner last weekend at the annual conference football coaches' press conference.

It was not only the first meeting of the press with new commissioner Mickey Holmes (recently hired from his post as assistant commissioner of the Big Eight Conference), but it was also the first public meeting at the league's new headquarters in this city. The MVC had been headquartered in Dallas until the middle of June.

Both the commissioner and the coaches talked during the press meeting of conference unity and a starting point toward a new and stronger image as a football conference. The MVC basketball program ranks

Hair Policy Ires Resident; Board Eyes Other Policies

City Manager George Loudder, left, and another city manager from the Panhandle area discuss rate increase requests received by many cities from Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. and General Telephone Co. Representatives from seven cities, including Canyon, met Monday to discuss the rate increase proposals.

A former Canyon School Board member criticized the current board Tuesday night for the school district's policy concerning long hair for boys.

Bill Davis, who served several years as a board member, blasted the school board for a policy which states that boys' hair length will not be below the shirt collar with sideburns not protruding below the ear lobe.

The school system dress code was just one of several policies reviewed by the administrators at Tuesday's meeting.

"Personally I don't go along with the dress code," Davis told the board. "Why legislate what a child wears to school?"

Board President Dudley Moore was quick to retort.

"Because it would be abused if we didn't," Moore said. "The courts are backing us on this."

Davis, passing his eyes from face to face of the board members, said "I know you all can't believe the way this is written. Some of your sons wear long hair."

Davis explained that his son had been turned away from the photographer's Tuesday when he had gone to have his picture taken for the high school annual.

"The photographer said he couldn't get his picture taken because of his hair," Davis said. "I think you ought to educate boys who have long hair even if they have long hair."

Long-haired boys can go to college, Davis pointed out.

"You're free to do what you want to do," he said, "so why can't we be free to do what we want to do?"

"You can go to another school," Moore retorted.

"But, what difference does it make if his hair is long?" Davis asked.

"We must draw the line somewhere," Moore said. "We, too, have to have rules. We feel they're necessary."

Board member Tom Keeling said he believes that a boy can be in style and still wear his hair to comply with the dress regulation.

"The main reason for the rule," said Board member Roscoe Richardson, "is to keep down the distraction of extra long hair."

Moore voiced a similar opinion.

"We have a responsibility to have a good learning atmosphere here," he said.

Moore said he hopes in two or three years styles will swing back to moderate hair lengths and that restrictive dress regulations will not be necessary.

And, that ended the discussion about long hair.

It didn't, however, end discussion about dress regulations for girls.

High School Principal John Sommer and junior high principal Dave Corley recommended that halter-type blouses be banned from the campuses.

The recommendation was accepted and incorporated in the dress regulations.

With the dress code out of the way, the board had only begun to make policy decisions.

Sommer told the board that

$1 Million Voted For Art Building

Construction of a new Fine Arts Building on the West Texas State University campus moved closer to reality Wednesday when regents committed $1 million in institutional building funds for the complex.

The board also let an $83,756 contract for improvements on the Nance Ranch and heard a warning from Regent Grady Hazlewood that the university had better get its money's worth on the ranch or the entire institution might suffer.

Commitment of the $1 million for a new FAH was conditioned on a committee being able to raise matching funds.

Regents also approved an $11,803,137 budget for the fiscal year beginning Sept. 1 and agreed to request more than $9 million in state appropriations for each year of the 1973-75 biennium.

The recent special session of the legislature appropriated $7,391,062 to the university for the next fiscal year.

In its request to the 1973 legislature, the university will ask for $9,024,918 for 1973-74 and $9,304,393 for the second year of the biennium.

Regents also approved a Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum request of $169,135 for fiscal 1974 and $161,570 for the following year. The legislature appropriated $146,400 for the 1973 fiscal year.

Regents noted that Governor Preston Smith vetoed $15,000 of the appropriation earmarked for the Nance Ranch project. WTSU President James P. Cornette said the improvement program on the ranch would not be materially affected.

The regents tabled plans for hiring a photographer and printer for next year's annual. Board Chairman Cloyce Box said he had had a number of complaints on the annual which he admitted might have stemmed from the fact that the printing is not being done in Amarillo.

Dr. T. Paige Carruth, vice president for student affairs, said there has been an increasing lack of interest in the annual. Many students do not even

Phone Rate Hike Requests Discussed By Seven Cities

By CARROLL WILSON

Representatives of seven cities met together Monday afternoon here to discuss telephone service rate hike requests and decided there isn't much they can do collectively to fight the rate increases.

But, they were given some measure of optimism when Hereford City Manager Dudley Baine said his city council is ready to go to court over Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's rate hike request in that city.

Baine said a letter has been sent notifying the Bell system "that they're not entitled to a rate increase and that if they have other information they can pick the time and place to have a public hearing."

If the phone company wants to go to court over the rate hike, Hereford will oblige, Baine said.

The Hereford city manager told the other six city representatives that "we'd be glad to be the guinea pigs if you want to sit back and wait."

Most of the other city representatives present had already been asked by Southwestern Bell or General Telephone for rate increases.

Canyon City Manager George Loudder chaired the meeting. Canyon has not yet been asked for a rate increase, but a usually reliable source told The News recently that a request for a 37 per cent hike is in the mill for the city.

Among others attending were city managers from Littlefield, Silverton, and Amarillo.

Primary speaker for the meeting was Bill McMorries of McMorries & Associates in Amarillo. McMorries is consulting engineer for Canyon as well as for several other towns in the Panhandle.

McMorries explained to the city managers the procedure used to determine rates in Texas.

Rates for utilities are based on three items—rate of return, fair value and operating expenses.

McMorries said that according to court rulings each of the three items are to be determined in accordance with fairly set procedures.

"It is the obligation and responsibility of the city commissions in your cities to look into rate increases," McMorries said. "But, it is also their responsibility to make sure the

New Metro Squad Head Named From Amarillo PD

An Amarillo police officer was named coordinator of the Randall-Potter Metro Intelligence Unit Wednesday afternoon.

Captain J.T. Carver, who has been with the Amarillo Police Department 23 years, was named by the unit's board of governor's to replace Joe Bowes, who was relieved of his duties last month.

Carver assumed his new duties effective Wednesday.

He has been a field inspector working out of the Amarillo Police Chief's office.

Chief Paul Hulsey said Carver has worked in most divisions of the Amarillo department. He was appointed to his current rank last spring.

Carver told The News Wednesday he anticipates no policy, personnel or operational changes in the Metro unit.

Carver, a native of near Lawton, Okla., came to Amarillo in 1948.

"The unit's board of governors Wednesday also named two new members to the board. George Dowlen, Randall County District Attorney and Tom Curtis, Amarillo District Attorney, will now have seats on the board."

Randall County Deputy Dan Carter will remain as second in command of the metro unit, it was announced.

Former metro head Bowes was suspended two weeks ago for what the board of governors termed "discrepancies" in records.

In the meantime, Bowes, who is reported to have found employment in law enforcement in Oklahoma, has appealed the suspension.

A hearing is scheduled before the civil service board in Amarillo next Tuesday. However,

Football Fieldhouse Eyed; Athletic Budget Okayed

School board members Tuesday night approved a $32,000 athletic budget for next school year and then discussed at length the possibilities of constructing a fieldhouse near the high school football field to relieve crowded locker room facilities.

The athletic budget includes a projected $13,000 expenditure for high school football and varying other amounts for other sports.

After touring the high school's current dressing room facilities, the board members returned to their meeting room and tossed around the feasibility of erecting a fieldhouse west of the football field.

The fieldhouse idea was introduced by board member Roscoe Richardson.

"Why wouldn't it be feasible to build a football, baseball and track building and let them store their equipment there?" Richardson asked. "Then, you'd have plenty of space for basketball and physical education here (in the present gym locker rooms)."

Richardson said the building could be built adjacent the present football field.

Board member Ed Wieck pointed out that a fieldhouse could be constructed of metal, rather than of brick. Before, the board had discussed the possibility of constructing an addition to the present gym.

Board President Dudley Moore asked Richardson and Tom Keeling to meet with representatives of the high school administration to discuss alternatives and advantages and disadvantages.

But, before the board could get too carried away with the idea of building a new fieldhouse, High School Principal John Sommer inserted a problem which also demanded attention.

Sommer said the school's library is severely cramped for space and he is not even sure it currently meets accreditation standards.

"We're getting more and more crowded," he said. "We definitely do have a problem there."

In other business, the board hired three new teachers. Bob R. Sloan, who has a total of 11 years teaching experience, was hired as head junior high school coach.

Mickey Hathaway of Plainview was hired as a teacher of auto mechanics, and Gail Albracht, who has 14 years experience, was hired as a high school English and history teacher.

Following the regular meeting, the board went into executive session to discuss personnel matters.

Mrs. Claudia Stuart of Canyon, who graduates this month from West Texas State University, displays some of the literature she will have available at Canyon's new Planned Parenthood center. Mrs. Stuart will head the office, which is in the Randall County Courthouse.

Planned Parenthood Opens Office For Canyon Residents

The Panhandle Planned Parenthood Association in Amarillo has opened a Canyon office.

The local office, which is in room 104 of the County Courthouse, may not be open this week, according to Mrs. Claudia Stuart of Canyon, who is staffing the branch.

Mrs. Stuart, who graduates from West Texas State University this month with a degree in sociology, said she plans a door-to-door visiting campaign in the near future to familiarize local residents with the Planned Parenthood Association and its goals and services.

The goal of Planned Parenthood, Mrs. Stuart said, is that every child be a wanted child.

Overall services offered for local residents include education through literature, physical examinations, Pap smears and medically and church approved methods of birth control.

Miss Stuart said all services provided by Planned Parenthood in Canyon would be at no charge to those using the office and hoped-for clinic.

Residents may take advantage of the Association's services regardless of economic status.

Planned Parenthood is funded through the Panhandle Community Action Corporation. It receives money from federal grants and through local contributions.

Mrs. Stuart said she feels a definite need exists in Canyon for a Planned Parenthood office. The Canyon operation is currently in a trial period.

"Already there are people from Canyon who come to the Amarillo office," she said, "so, I think it will be successful in Canyon."

Mrs. Stuart is optimistic about the office's future here, and she already has a program outlined to afford residents the full benefits offered.

This fall, for example, she hopes to work with students at West Texas State University, promoting seminars and discussions on population control. She also hopes to work with high school students.

Mrs. Stuart's long-range goal is to establish a clinic-type service through which residents could receive medical examinations and Pap smears at no charge through local physicians.

"We're not just a pill-distributing organization," she said. "We have a definite purpose of limiting and spacing families."

The Planned Parenthood Association is concerned, too,

Plank Withdraws From State Race

Rhett Plank Wednesday withdrew as Republican candidate for state representative, 65th District, and there were persistent rumors that Greg Harms, GOP candidate in Potter County, ty, would do likewise.

RHETT PLANK

Plank's announcement was made through Don Reavis, Amarillo, Republican 31st District committeeman. Reavis said he had not been informed that Harms might also withdraw.

Plank, a Canyon attorney, defeated Bob Slough of Amarillo in the May primary and had been slated to go on the ballot opposing Democratic incumbent Bryan Poff.

Betty Sterquell, GOP co-chairman for Randall County, said she hopes a Randall County resident will be named to fill the ballot vacancy when county chairman of Randall, Potter and Carson Counties which make up the 65th District meet to choose an opponent for Poff.

"Randall County is a good Republican County and was a Republican seat until it was switched around on us," declared Reavis. "It was Tom Christian's until the redistricting."

Bedwells Featured In Today's Issue

Having lived in California, New Mexico and South Texas, the Wayne Bedwell family decided the Canyon-Happy area was a good place to settle down.

They have just moved into a new home at 1107 14th St. and are featured in this newspaper issue.

Bedwell, who is the new manager of the Happy Wheat Growers Feed Lot, said he believes the Canyon area is full of opportunity.

Attesting to his faith in this area is his "recruitment" of more Canyon residents, relatives from California who are moving here to be the Bedwells' neighbors.

Originally from Brawley, Calif., Bedwell has a varied background of flying aircraft, farming, cow-calf operations and feed lots.

In the past five years, Bedwell

decided to concentrate on feed lots and has vowed to make the Happy Feedlot "the best in the nation."

Although Bedwell has not gone to college, he said he is always furthering his education by reading and learning and said he has his "masters in hard knocks."

Bedwell met his wife Katrin, a native of Stockholm, Sweden, when she was visiting friends of his in California.

The Bedwells have five children: Jim, 23; Dan, 20; Annica, 12; Kaja, 9; and Sten, 5.

The Bedwell's chose their new home, which has a slight Spanish style, when it was first being built and then made some changes in the plans.

FROM THE CANYON RIM

Tom Eagleton may regard Jack Anderson as a "distinguished journalist" but I doubt that his sentiments will be shared by the working press of this country.

Last week when Eagleton already was down by the revelation of his history of emotional problems, Anderson accused him of having a record of arrests for drunken and reckless driving.

Tuesday in the wake of Eagleton's resignation as Democratic candidate for vice president, Anderson retracted the story "unqualified and in total."

Anderson's flagrant abuse of the freedom of the press was not simply an injury of already bleeding Tom Eagleton. It served as a further wedge between the people of this country and the press—the only means they have of getting the information they need to run the nation.

Anderson's transgression was a disservice to the United States and I find myself thinking that it is too bad that flogging is not still lawful.

I am glad that Anderson's column runs in The Tulsa Herald and not in The Canyon News.

Less than 24 hours after receiving the nomination George McGovern bungled his first major decision.

Can we expect him to exercise more diligence in choosing a cabinet, a chief of staff or Supreme Court justices than he did in choosing a running mate?

Bob Price is running scared. For the first time since he was elected, he's up against a tough campaigner in Graham Purcell.

Purcell gets down among the people and campaigns in a way Price has never learned to do. Purcell exudes confidence without appearing to be cocky while Bob gives the impression of not being entirely sure of himself.

Purcell has the ability to give his undivided attention to anyone to whom he happens to be talking. Although his schedule must be just as crowded as Bob's, Graham acts like he has all day this country.

Price, I'm sure unintentionally, vibrates a tenseness that makes you feel like a hand-shake is an imposition.

Graham has what appears to be a crack staff which answers correspondence promptly. Bob's most ardent supporters complain that his correspondence lags.

Price has only recently begun to rearrange his staff and you can expect some of these complaints to disappear within the next few weeks. How much it will help is anyone's guess.

In spite of all these things, the congressman from Pampa has a lot going for him. As far as I can tell he has always voted his conscience which for the most part coincides with the conscience of his constituency.

He has made this district a good congressman. He is a farmer and rancher representing a farming and ranching area. He is more at home discussing important problems with area leaders than in the hustings hand-shaking.

Most important, he does not have the McGovern albatross around his neck—a burden that must be more onerous for Democratic office seekers with each passing hour.

State politics in the Amarillo-Canyon area is an entirely new ball game.

Rhett Plank has resigned as Republican candidate for 65th District state representative and Greg Harms is expected to withdraw as Republican candidate in Potter County.

This means that new candidates may be appointed to run on the GOP ticket in November.

Democratic Incumbent Bryan Poff is in pretty solid after being appointed to the powerful Apporiations Committee. I don't see anyone on the horizon who could defeat him.

He has further endeared himself to his conservative district by openly declaring he will not vote for George McGovern.

Ben Bynum, on the other hand, is in deep trouble if a strong Republican is chosen to oppose him. Bynum has set a new world record for political mistakes in a six-month period.

He could be beaten if an articulate opponent chose to enumerate those mistakes enough times before enough voters.

Local Girl Wins Award At Revue

Millie Hales, senior 4-H Dress Revue winner from Randall County, won one of the five coveted awards at the District Revue held in Amarillo July 31 at the Quality Motel. Altogether, sixty 4-H youth entered the competition.

Miss Hales, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jones Hales of Route 2, was also chosen Best Model of the twenty senior contestants. Her sister Debbie Hales won a blue ribbon and was one of the top five winners in the 12-13 age group. Their brother Larry Hales also won a blue ribbon in the 9-11 age group, wearing double-knit slacks that he had made.

Terry Jo Reynolds, of the Cle-4-H Club, Randall County delegate to the District 1 4-H Council and chairman of the publicity committee, introduced guests at the Revue and helped with modeling instructions for the senior girls. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Reynolds, southeast of Canyon.

The Hales children are members of the Randel 4-H Club, whose adult leader is Mrs. Ant Hollenstein, Route 2.

Aggies Meet For Picnic

More than a dozen former Texas Aggies from Canyon and their families will be attending a picnic sponsored by Amarillo A&M University Mothers Club. The group will gather at 7 p.m. Aug. 7 at the southeast corner of Memorial Park in Amarillo.

Beverly Chisholm, Littlefield senior at WTSU, looks over the new football pressbook which was sent to area newspapers this week. The book, compiled by Sports Information Director Tommy Bryant, has all the facts and figures about the Buffaloes. It is sent in anticipation of the football season which begins at the university in early September.

14 Amendments On Nov. Ballot

Voters in Texas will find not only names on November's ballot when they go to the polls.

Also to be considered are 14 amendments to the state constitution.

Several amendments would raise the salaries of legislators, the lieutenant governor and speaker of the house.

Another amendment provides equality under the law for all persons regardless of sex, race, color, creed or national origin.

Outline of the amendments will begin appearing in The Canyon News today.

A brief description of each, as formulated by the Texas Legislative Council, is as follows:

No. 1 — Amending Article III, Section 24, of the Texas Constitution to provide annual salaries of $8,400 for members of the senate and house of representatives.

No. 2 — Amending Article IX, Section 6, of the Texas Constitution to abolish Lamar County Hospital District.

No. 3 — Amending Article XVI, Section 61, of the Texas Constitution to require the commissioners courts in all counties of the state to compensate all justices of the peace on a salary basis beginning January 1, 1973.

No. 4 — Granting authority to the legislature to establish a constitutional revision commission which would report its recommendations no later than Nov. 1, 1973, and providing that members of the 63rd Legislature would then be convened in January 1974 as a constitutional convention to serve 60 days for the purpose of drafting a new constitution for submission to voters of Texas.

No. 5 — Amending Article VIII, Section 2, relating to a tax exemption on certain property owned by a disabled veteran, to provide that exemptions, which would range from $1,500 to $3,000, be made on a graduated scale based on the percentage of the veteran's disability.

No. 6 — Amending Article VIII, Section 1-b, of the Texas Constitution, to provide that the various political subdivisions of the state may exempt not less than $3,000 of the value of residence homesteads of all persons 65 years of age or older from ad valorem taxes under certain conditions.

No. 7 — Amending Article I of the Texas Constitution by adding a new Section 3a to provide that equality under the law shall not be denied or abridged because of a person's sex, race, color, creed or national origin.

No. 8 — Amending Article IV, Sections 4, 22, and 23, to provide four-year terms for the offices of governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general, comptroller of public accounts, treasurer, commissioner of the general land office and certain statutory state officers.

No. 9 — Amending Article XVI, Sections 33 and 40, to exempt directors of soil and water conservation districts from prohibitions against dual office-holding and dual compensation.

No. 10 — Amending Article CVII, Section 1, to revise provisions on the time of proposing amendments to the state constitution and the time and method of publishing notice of proposed amendments.

No. 11 — Amending Article IV, Section 17 and adding a new Section 24a to Article III to provide a salary of $22,500 for the lieutenant governor and the speaker of the house of representatives.

No. 12 — Amending Article XVI, Sections 33 and 40 to allow state employees and certain other persons to serve on governing bodies of school districts, cities, towns or other governmental districts without forfeiting their state salary and otherwise to revise generally the restrictions on dual office-holding and dual compensation.

No. 13 — Increasing the maximum interest rate which may be borne by certain bonds issued under constitutional authority by addition of a new Section 65 to Article III.

No. 14 — Amending Article VII by adding a new Section 6b to permit the commissioners court of a county to reduce the county permanent school fund and to provide for the per scholastic distribution and use of the money obtained from this reduction.

TV Influence Questioned

Today's children may appear to have a wide vocabulary, but they need increased exposure to words through reading to be able to use their vocabularies to the greatest extent, a St. Louis educator told about 300 Panhandle area teachers Tuesday.

Citing television's influence on pre-school children, Miss Audrey E. Claus, a curriculum specialist with the St. Louis Public School system, said many teachers have been induced to believe that children have gained a rich and powerful vocabulary from television.

Miss Claus was keynote speaker Tuesday morning at the first session of the 20th annual reading conference sponsored by the Texas Association for the Improvement of Reading at WTSU.

"Children are glib, but I don't think they're wise," Miss Claus said. "They're passive and bombarded by a multitude of words from the television and they get a multitude of imperfect and fuzzy meanings."

The educator said family conversations—around the dinner table, while spending an evening together, while on outings—have become a thing of the past and have given way to the television.

"I suspect they (children) don't develop real vocabulary through the bombardment of words they receive from television," she said. "Because we are surrounded by talkative children, we think they have good vocabularies. They may know about big words, but what about the right words, the precise words, the colorful or the unusual words."

Miss Claus said that by default the problem of vocabulary development has fallen to the school teacher.

"The teacher must be the pattern of excellence," she said.

She urged the teachers to be aware of the need for vocabulary development throughout their teaching days. She said they should have a stockpile of techniques to use during spare time to interest children in words and their meanings.

Miss Claus was the first of several prominent speakers who appeared before the more than 400 teachers at the conference.

The conference concluded Wednesday night.

Dr. John T. Thornton, Jr., president of TAIR, welcomed the conference attendees Tuesday morning. He is a professor of education and coordinator of graduate and undergraduate reading programs at Stephen F. Austin State University.

Dr. Frank J. Guszak, associate professor in the department of curriculum and instruction at the University of Texas at Austin, also appeared during the

Pond Returns From Seminar

County Judge Woody Pond returned from the University of Minnesota Monday and said his three-week study at the Juvenile Court Judges Institute there was rewarding and very educational.

Pond said the institute covered growth and development of children, court services, the juvenile justice system, drug abuse and studies in peer group treatment.

The judge said the most interesting part of the institute to him was the block of instruction on growth and development.

"This was just a tremendous help to me," Pond said. "They gave us some techniques of communication that I'd been using for a long time without even knowing it."

WT Offense Is Promising

(NOTE: This is part of a series on West Texas State University's football prospects for the 1972 season—OFFENSIVE LINE).

Assistant coach Jimmy Campbell is in charge of West Texas State University's athletic dining hall.

The former West Texas State and professional football player did his homework and decided a few of the WTSU athletes were too much on the skinny side.

Under Campbell's direction, peanut butter and tuna fish sandwiches were provided each day at noon for skinny athletes to eat in between meals as the protein in them is good for adding weight.

One of Campbell's best customers was Don White. The former Odessa Permian athlete has outstanding quickness as an offensive center, but had little weight to back up his aggressive play.

When White started his weight-adding program, he tipped the scales at 182 pounds. He had pushed his weight above the 190-mark when spring training started. He switched from sandwiches to weight-lifting this summer and is presently near the 200-pound mark on the scales.

Outside of White, the remainder of the Buffalo starting line on offense at the end of spring drills has no trouble with being too light to play.

Junior college transfer Gary Fennell of San Diego, Calif., and Andrews junior Jim Hankins, a converted center, held the starting tackle berths at the end of spring drills. Fennell is 6-0 and 235, while Hankins is 6-4 and 227. Hankins was pushed hard for a job all spring by TCU transfer Carroll Marriot, who is 6-5½ and 235.

Allen Mullins, a 6-5, 249-pound former all-stater from Sunray, teamed with former tackle Billy Taylor of Plains, who is 6-4 and 229, at the guard positions. Ronnie Bassett, who started some games last fall, and transfer Mike Delaney back up those two players. Former Amarillo Caprock griddle Mike Cerken backed up White. He is 6-1½ and 215.

Sophomores Jim Hart of Lubbock and Ed Alford of Highspire, Pa., along with Jim Jeffers of Hobbs, N.M., were other reserved during spring drills.

Three other players will join the offensive line group this fall. They are former Marine David Freeman, a guard, and tackles John Hunter and Mike Kotrous. Hunter and Kotrous are transferring from Fort Scott Community College in Fort Scott, Kan. Freeman played two years for the Quantico Marines against collegiate teams. Freeman, 6-3, 235-pounder from Hurst, underwent an operation in the spring to correct a shoulder injury and it will be unknown if that operation was successful until practice starts Aug. 24.

Library Offers Wide Variety For Summer Reading

BY JUNE DAYEN

A cure for loneliness... an escape from boredom... a passport to a different land and a different time... a world of ideas and information—all of these can be found between the covers of a good book. And Canyon City Library now offers a wide variety of books, old and new, to suit almost every reading taste.

Adult Reading

According to Mrs. Mary Huntington, librarian, here are four of the most popular newer books for mature readers:

"The Godfather," by Mario Puzo. The film based on this story of a "mafia" father-figure has popularized the novel.

"The Exorcist," by William Peter Blatty. It is a suspenseful tale of a little girl possessed by a supernatural spirit. The author has done extensive research on the occult.

"Passions of the Mind," by Irving Stone. This is a fictional biography of Sigmund Freud. It is said that the distinguished author considers it his best novel so far, and that it has won the approval of the family of the great psychologist also.

"Franklin and Eleanor," by Joseph Lash. This nonfiction book is considered an accurate and moving portrayal of the personal lives of Franklin Delano and Eleanor Roosevelt.

For the reader who prefers a mixture of mystery and romance on the lighter side, the librarian may suggest one of these:

"The Shadow of the Lynx," by Victoria Holt; "Listen to the Whisper," by Phyllis Whitney; or "The Crystal Cave," by Mary Stewart. Canyon City Library has other works by these authors, and all of them are extremely popular, says Mrs. Huntington. Another such author, Georgette Heyer, has experienced a revival of popularity since her works have been published in paperback and the library has acquired new editions in hardback.

Topics which have the most reader appeal, says Mrs. Huntington, are witchcraft, the Civil War, and racing cars.

A popular new novel on the occult is "Here, Mr. Splitfoot," by Robert Somerlott; two non-fiction books in demand are "Witchcraft at Salem," by Chadwick Hansen, and "A Gift of Prophecy," by Jean Dixon.

For those who enjoy reading about the yarns, legends and history of Texas, Mrs. Huntington recommends:

"The Texas Courthouse," by June Rayfield Welch and J. Larry Nance, containing pictures and resume of facts about Texas courthouses.

"Diary of William Barret Travis, Hero of the Alamo," by Robert E. Davis, an actual diary kept from Aug. 30, 1833, to June 26, 1834.

"Black Beans & Goose Quills," by James M. Day, a history of the Texan band of 305 that invaded the domain of Santa Anna in the Mexican War.

"Sam Houston's Wife," by William Seale—a new biography.

"Lost Legends of the West," by Brad Williams Choral Pepper.

"How-to" books can introduce one to a craft or hobby that can prove richly rewarding. Here are three of the many attractive and well-illustrated how-to books in the Canyon City Library:

"Macrame," by Virginia I. Harvey.

"Manning on Decoupage," by Hiram Manning.

"The Complete Book of Rug Hooking," by Barbara J. Zarbock.

One of the well-written new books on the Civil War is "Hood's Texas Brigade: Lee's Grenadier Guard," by Col. Harold B. Simpson. The author is a retired Air Force officer who has made himself an authority on the Civil War.

For Teen-Agers

Teen boys enjoy reading books on cars, which include "The World's Racing Cars," by M.L. Twite—a favorite.

Two of the newer books that teen-age girls find absorbing are: "The Homecoming," by Earl Hamner, Jr. This novel, televised last winter, is about Spencer's Mountain, Virginia, and a boy going out on Christmas Eve in search of a father who has failed to return home.

"Tregaron's Daughter," by Madeleine Brent. With a setting of England and Italy in 1910, the story is about an English girl who unravels her grandmother's past.

Children's Books

The library offers a wide assortment of children's books, most of them with delightful illustrations. They include for younger children:

"TEXAS" Originals Go On Stage Sunday

By CAROL CRAIN

"TEXAS" Originals will be presented on the Branding Iron Theatre stage Sunday at 8 p.m.

The show consists of a variety of acts including dancing, singing, and acting performed by members of the 1972 "TEXAS" company.

Admission is free though contributions to the scholarship fund will be accepted at the door and two scholarships will be awarded after the evening's entertainment.

Winning the "TEXAS" company scholarships last summer were Georgia Clinton of Amarillo and Harrell Floyd of Canyon. Both have leading roles in this season's musical drama.

Director for "Originals" is Nik Hagler, designer and technical director of theatre at Iowa State University and TEXAS' stage manager.

Acts include a dance number choreographed by Rene Clemente of El Paso, three year "TEXAS" veteran. Members of the dance troupe are Leesa Lohoeffer, Roxanne Bartush, Jan Bettis, and Paula Knerr all of Lubbock, Billy Black of El Paso, Jim Holston and Mike McKenzie of Canyon; and Valerie McCarthy, Mark Lanham, and Derryl Yeager of Amarillo.

Clemente designed the stunning black and white costumes for the "Shaft" musical routine. They have been made by Sandra Graves, Betty Holcomb, and Armando Nevarez.

Patrick Cuccaro of Muskogee, Oklahoma and Rodger Wilson of Canyon are scheduled to present two comic selections.

An original dramatic reading by Jane Bivins Lipscomb entitled "Mom" will be presented with Mrs. Lipscomb, as Mary; Margaret Moore as Lavinia; and Charlotte Brantley as Grace.

The group "Buck Dollar and the Four Quarters" will sing "Joshua Fought the Battle of Jerico". Those in the group are Rodger Wilson as Buck Dollar and Alta Jo Reasonover of Seagraves, Lorinda White of Greeley, Colorado; and Kathy McNeil and Janice Perkins of Amarillo as the four quarters.

"McGrew's Zoo" will then be staged as an adaptation of a Dr. Seuss script by Dalina Bond. The background music will be "Dimitri".

Roles will be performed by Billy Black, Carol Wilkerson, Bayla Carver, Sharon McCarthy, Steve Garre, Roxanne Bartush, Jan Bettis, Derryl Yeager, Mark Lanham, Mike McKenzie, and Mat Walker.

Others in the group are Valerie McCarthy, Leesa Lohoeffer, Paula Knerr, Debra Black, Julie Brantley, and David Skinner. Costumes have been designed by Miss Bond.

Singing the vocal parts will be Steve Hilton and Harold Orr.

"The Taming of the Shrew" cutting will be performed by "TEXAS" leads, and last year's scholarship winners Travis Dean and Georgia Clinton.

Lorinda White will revive "Hard Hearted Hanna". Accompanying her will be Michael Raillard and Jim Meeks.

Meeks is the stage manager for "Originals" with Bill Anderson designing and Meeks set designers: Pat Jarrett is light director with David Groves assisting.

Darla Rhodes is the property manager for the show and Vickie McCormick is the house manager and Linda McNeil is chairman of hospitality.

"TEXAS" Originals will be presented for the fourth season this Sunday at 8 p.m. in the Branding Iron Theatre. Lorinda White will sing "Hard Hearted Hanna" to Jim Meeks in one of the many original acts to be performed by members of the 1972 "TEXAS" company.

The surprising Maverick.

It's a comfortable, 6-cylinder American compact that's actually priced below the Volkswagen 113.

If you can afford a Volkswagen 113—or almost any little import—you can afford a Maverick. Look:

FORD MAVERICK	2-door	6-cylinder	$2,140.*
VW 113 (Super Beetle)	2-door	4-cylinder	$2,159.*
TOYOTA COROLLA 1600	2-door	4-cylinder	$2,109.*
DATSUN PL 510	2-door	4-cylinder	$2,306.*

*Manufacturer's suggested retail price for 2-door models. Excludes dealer preparation charges if any, destination charges, title and taxes.

NOTE: People ask us how we can afford to offer a roomy, 6-cylinder compact at about the same price as the little imports.

First, we've been making small cars since 1908. Experience helps.

Second, we haven't changed Maverick—except for mechanical improvements—since we first introduced it. That kind of continuity helps to control costs.

Third, recent currency revaluations and devaluations have helped restore the competitive stance of American manufacturers.

Most little imports give you 4-cylinder engines. Maverick gives you a 6-cylinder engine.

It's smooth. It's reliable. It lets you accelerate into turnpike traffic with confidence and hold your own on steep hills. And it delivers surprisingly good gas mileage.

A good car for long trips.

Maverick's rear track is 2.9" wider than Volkswagen's. Its wheel-base is 7.7" longer. There's a bit more weight, too. By themselves, these differences aren't very big—but they can add up to a big difference in the way Maverick drives and handles the open road.

Ample room inside.

Maverick's front seat, for example: over 8" more shoulder room than Volkswagen 113.

There's no wasted space inside Maverick. At the same time, none of that small-car crowded feeling.

Maintenance: Even simpler, more convenient than the little imports.

VW, for example, recommends normal service every 3000 miles or three months, whichever comes first. On Maverick, it's 6000 miles or six months. So Maverick's recommended service interval is twice as long as Volkswagen's.

We also designed Maverick to be a simple machine to care for. In fact, we've even prepared a manual which tells you how to do many maintenance jobs yourself.

One more convenience: there are over 5,600 Ford dealers in the country. VW has about 1,100.

Better idea for safety... buckle up!

It may just be the best car value in America today.

utilities get a fair rate."

Quoting from Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's annual report to stockholders, McMorris said the company showed an increase in net income during the past year.

He said the annual report states that expenses were on the increase last year but that revenues were also up.

The telephone company's request for rate increases have not been standard throughout the Panhandle. In Amarillo, for example, they asked for 19 per cent increase, while in Hereford the request was for increases of between 20 and 35 per cent.

Louder noted that Canyon city commissioners voted to approve a rate increase for the phone company in 1968. Baine said it had been several years since an increase had been sought in Hereford.

The Hereford city manager said the city commission has "no gripes or complaints with Bell, but we feel they deserve a fair rate of return."

Amarillo City Manager John Stiff, whose city was confronted with a phone hike request several weeks ago, said the Amarillo commission will "very definitely" study the proposal.

"We're obligated to make a study," he said. "Legally, we're just as vulnerable if we don't as if we do."

Stiff told the other city managers that even if they work collectively to fight the increase "you can't save much money."

their policy which restricts married students from participating in extra-curricular activities at the schools would probably not stand up in court.

He and Supt. Jerry Jacobs agreed that the extra-curricular activities offered by the schools—like clubs, and other organizations—are a valuable part of the education process.

The board voted to delete from their policy handbook, the restriction on married student involvement in these activities.

The board generally agreed only informally that in specific cases students should be allowed to receive a high school diploma if they finished their required course work for that diploma before the end of the usual four year period.

Sommer told the board that occasionally a student will finish his high school work in 3 1/2 years.

The board directed Sommer to allow a student to receive a diploma with less than four years in the school only after extensive counseling with the student and his parents.

The board also considered including in their policy handbook a statement of organization, powers, meetings, duties and responsibilities of the school board.

The board was particularly concerned with having the powers of the board placed in writing in the policy book, ostensibly, according to Moore, to have a record of what the board is authorized to do.

Keeling suggested that the board adopt a policy that the families of public school administrators and supervisors not be employed in any capacity by the school district.

The suggestion drew speculation and some adverse criticism.

The main point of contention, though, was which positions in the school system are administrative and supervisory and which are not.

Moore instructed Jacobs to compile a list of job positions so some determination can be made about which jobs are or are not administrative and supervisory. Jacobs was also instructed to survey schools in the AAA district to see what similar policies they might have.

In the meantime, the motion was tabled.

bother to pick their copies of the yearbook in which they have a $15 investment taken from activity fees.

The possibility of dropping yearbook publication altogether was discussed. Dr. Carruth and Regents Don Curry and Dick Todd were appointed to study the matter.

A contract for $83,756.50 was let to Jack Barton Hog Homes of Littlefield for construction of a pork facility at Nance Ranch and Boone Pickens and B. Raymond Evans, regents, were authorized to undertake some $50,000 other improvements begun subject to approval of the board at its November meeting.

Hazlewood said building on the ranch should be strictly supervised or it might reflect badly on the entire institution.

Consensus was that a ranch manager will be needed in the future.

The regents authorized entering into a cooperative agreement with Texas Tech University in providing a program leading to a professional certificate in school supervision.

Under terms of the agreement, Tech will offer during the next two academic years one of the courses required for the certificate in the Amarillo area.

The certificate will be granted by Texas Tech graduate school.

In other action, the board approved:

High bid of Gallareau Brothers of Amarillo for refreshments vending machine service on campus through Aug. 31, 1975.

Amarillo National Bank, First National Bank of Canyon and First National Bank of Amarillo as depositories of university funds.

Agreement with Neblett Clinic in Canyon for health services for university students at a cost of $6 per student.

Amarillo City Attorney Don Cheatham said the hearing probably will be postponed at the request of Bowes' lawyer.

The city attorney added that the hearing probably will be held behind closed doors unless the appellant asks that it be opened to the public.

Cheatham, who drew up the bill of particulars in the Bowes suspension, refused to discuss them.

Federal authorities said the Justice Department still has the case under advisement and has handed down no decision as to whether it will come under federal jurisdiction.

The federal government to date has furnished something like $150,000 for the unit's operation since it was established in March of 1971.

Cowboys Want Winning Season

The Happy Cowboys, after a rough ride on the district bronc last season, are facing the possibility this year of riding to the buzzer.

The Cowboys finished out their football last fall with a 5-5 record. But they are optimistic this fall about making it a clean 10-0 sweep.

Coach Robert Criswell, who had his first season with Happy last year, looks to his second to take the district title.

"I think our chances are real good," Criswell said. "We'll be disappointed if we don't win it. And, Criswell has some pretty good reasons to be confident.

The Cowboys are experienced. And, they're big.

Happy returns 10 starters to the lineup this season. Only one starter, Quarterback Steve Cole, doesn't return.

All-district selection Mark Hargraves, who won honors last season in the fullback slot, is expected to take over the chores vacated by Cole in the backfield.

Complementing Hargraves in the backfield will be Greg Looney, an experienced and capable runner, who will play half-back. Looney was leading rusher for the Cowboys last season. Chris Pearson will fill the other halfback slot.

Coming into the backfield lineup for his first season as a starter is sophomore Johnny Payne, a 6-1 boy who Criswell expects to "be outstanding."

On the line, Criswell has a full squad of returning starters.

Rocky Williams, who played center last year, returns as center this fall.

Jim Hand, Andy's brother and an all-district pick last year, will handle right tackle this year and Don Lee will start at left tackle.

Gary Barnett, an all-district, tight end last year, returns at that position, while Stanley Mor-

The Cowboys field a pretty big team this year, according to Criswell.

"One magazine said we'd average about 225 pounds," he said, "and that's pretty close."

In eyeing the season, Criswell leavened his optimism.

"I expect Wilson to be tough," he said. "They played for the regional title last year. They lost, but they still had to win district and bi-district to get there. And, their regulars are all coming back."

The coach expects Lazbuddie to be a strong opponent, too, with that team's entire backfield returning this year.

Criswell will be assisted this season by Leslie Lee and Gerald Weeks.

First Cowboy game is Sept. 8 against Claude at Claude. Happy plays nine district games this season.

During their executive session, the board accepted the resignation of Lawrence Brotherton, who has accepted a position as elementary school principal at Happy.

The resignation is effective next week.

Brotherton is a long-time Canyon resident and has been with the Canyon school system many years.

Going somewhere? Or been? The Canyon News wants to know about it—and so do its readers.

Bunt Sends Girl Team To State

A bunt laid down by versatile Karla Swartz pressed the Canyon KK softball team into the state girls' tournament Saturday night.

The girls left Wednesday and will play the Pasadena Royals at 9:30 o'clock Thursday night in Irving.

The state tournament is a 16-team double round robin. The Canyon KKs won their way into the state playoffs in an extra inning win over the NATCO team of Amarillo.

On instructions from Coach Robert Quintanilla, Swartz bunted and forced in the winning run winning the first place trophy in the Amarillo league.

The win was not without its price. Penny Peckenpaugh, ace catcher for the KKs, suffered a leg fracture in a slide home and will not be in the playoff games.

Canyon's team won the championship behind the pitching of Rhonda Umberson.

Earlier in the playoffs here, the KKs defeated Huckaby homes of Amarillo 6 to 2.

Canyon was allowed to draft three players from the league to go with them to the state meet. Quintanilla chose Vicky Haiduk to take the place of Peckenpaugh behind the plate and pitchers Belinda Whitson and Patty Salazar to back Umberson up on the mound.

Floyd Enlists In Marines

Tennis Meet Is Slated

A meeting of persons interested in expansion of the tennis program at West Texas State University will be held at 8 o'clock Aug. 7 on the West Texas University tennis court.

David Kent, WTSU tennis coach, will direct the meeting.

Brief Histories Spread Around Town

About 25 historical markers in and around Canyon attract tourists and even old-timers to read them and learn a bit of Panhandle history.

Most of these markers were placed through the Randall County Historical Association, a branch of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee in Austin.

The markers were financed by state and county funds and individual donations.

First president of the Randall County Historical Association was Mrs. T.B. McCarter, and the second was Mrs. Terry Martin. Third and present president is Mrs. Clyde Warwick, who compiled and wrote "The Randall County Story."

For those who have not read all the markers or who may have forgotten some of the information on them, the following is a description of the ones in and near Canyon.

Erected by the State Highway Department in 1936, an historical marker for Randall County was placed about one mile south of Canyon at a roadside park.

Information on it read that the county was created on Aug. 21, 1876, and organized July 27, 1889, from Young and Bexar Territories.

With Canyon the county seat, the county was named in honor of Horace Randal (1821-1864), a distinguished Confederate officer who fell in battle at the head of his brigade.

In 1965, four more markers identifying the county were placed on the highways leading to Canyon. Included on these markers is the information that the county was settled in 1877 by rancher Leigh Dyer, brother-in-law of Charles Goodnight, who first brought cattle to the Panhandle. Also, Randall County is the home of West Texas State University, Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum, Palo Duro State Park and Buffalo Lake.

Also in 1965, a medallion plate was placed on the Randall County Courthouse. The courthouse was the second for the county and was erected in 1909, on the eve of the opening of WTSU. On this site was first a frame house, the first school in the county. Cowboys had dances on its tin roof.

On the City Hall Building, at 1600 4th Ave., is a marker for the City of Canyon. The Canyon site was surveyed Christmas Day, 1887, by L.G. Conner, who also donated land for numerous civic improvements. The town was named for the colorful Palo Duro Canyon, 12 miles east.

Despite a harsh environment characterized by snow, sandstorms and grasshopper plagues, pioneer citizens pushed ahead. With six students, the first school was organized in 1889. Using barbed wire fence posts as poles, the first telephone line was built in 1896. Church services were held in the early days in the courthouse.

In 1898, the arrival of the Santa Fe Railroad spurred town growth; and in 1901, 1902 and 1908 Canyon is said to have shipped out more cattle than any other city in the world.

In 1906 Canyon incorporated at the urging of Jasper N. Haney, lawyer, who was elected first mayor.

In 1908 an electric power plant was built, at first running only in the evening. Later, it was on in the afternoon for women to do the ironing. Since 1910 when WTSU was opened, the school and town have advanced together.

Canyon citizens initiated Buffalo Lake Conservation Project, dedicated in 1939, and have contributed to the development of the Panhandle region, the marker reads.

Erected in 1967 was the historical marker for the site of the Conner dugout. The half-dugout, with windows at ground level, was the first home in Canyon.

The home was the location of Canyon's first post office and birthplace of Mamie Conner, first white child born in the county.

Noting the site of the Canyon Wagon Yard is a marker at 1702 5th Ave., where LaGrone's Funeral Home is now. In 1890-1921 the Wagon Yard was the ranchman's headquarters in town, where he slept in a bedroll in his wagon or in a room above the office. Overnight charges for the Wagon Yard were 10 cents a horse and 50 cents a man.

At 310 8th St. is a marker in front of the old L.T. Lester home, which was built in 1904. Mantle pieces for four fireplaces and marble lavatories were bought in Kansas City, Mo. It was the site of political, social and church gatherings.

A buffalo hunter and cattleman, Lester settled in Canyon in 1889 and opened the first bank in 1900. He helped bring West Texas State Normal College here in 1910.

In 1968, the Historical Society erected a marker at 1406 8th St., where Chaparral Mobile Home Park is now. The site is where W.F. Heller, pioneer farmer, first lived. Settling in the area in 1887, Heller was the first to successfully farm.

Heller was elected the first county clerk and helped to organize the first Sunday school in 1890 and start West Texas State Normal College.

At the First National Bank is an historical marker with the information that the bank, originally called Stockmen's National Bank, was organized Jan. 5, 1900, by L.T. Lester, S.F. Sullenger and 19 others.

As the first bank in the region immediately south of Amarillo, it was a vital factor in developing the city and county. The bank has been in four different buildings during its existence.

In front of the new location of The Canyon News at 1500 5th Ave. is a marker telling of the history of Canyon newspapers. The first city paper, "The Echo," was first printed in 1889. "The Stayer" was first printed and later renamed "Randall County News," the predecessor of the present paper.

Editor of the paper in 1910-1955, Clyde W. Warwick won awards for outstanding weekly in 1942 and 1950. A special edition in 1949 was rated the nation's best. Troy Martin became editor in 1960.

Other markers in Canyon include ones at the First Methodist Church, the First Baptist Church and the WTSU Administration Building.

At Conner Park is a marker in memory of Randall County men who died in World War II, and 12 Civil War veterans' graves were marked by the Randall County Historical Association in 1966.

A marker at the Randall County Courthouse tells a story of the Civil War veterans' reunions, celebrated annually in Canyon from 1900-1910. The reunions each summer were a focal point of social life.

Several thousand people arrived by horseback, train, buckboard and covered wagons. They pitched tents and built fires to cook meals.

Members of the Stonewall Jackson Confederate veterans camp exchanged tales with many other veterans of both sides. Politicians delivered patriotic speeches. Families watched balloon ascensions and attended farm and garden shows, ball games and bulldogging and bronco-busting contests.

An historic marker about Umbarger is at Donnell Gulf service station. The town was settled in 1895 by Civil War veteran S.G. Umbarger, who built on his farm a wagon yard and sheds for travelers bound for Amarillo from the Southwest.

When the Pecos Valley Railroad was built in 1898, Umbarger's name was given to a switch there.

In 1902, when the post office was established, a strong German-Catholic influence was introduced by Pius Friemel and family, whose close friends soon followed. A church and school were founded by 1908.

On U.S. Highways 60 and 87, about 2 miles north of Canyon by the WTSU Farm, is a marker telling of the T-Anchor Ranch headquarters. Built of the logs from Palo Duro Canyon, the headquarters was built by Leigh R. Dyer in 1877 and is the oldest surviving house in the Texas Panhandle.

In 1878, Dyer sold to Gunter, Summerfield and Munson, and the ranch became the center of area ranching and development.

In front of the Panhandle-Plains Museum, situated on the commemorative Charles Goodnight Trail, is an historical marker about the trail.

The highway from the museum to Palo Duro State Park approximates the course used by Charles Goodnight, Texas cowman and trail blazer, when he trailed 1600 cattle from Colorado to found the first ranch on the Staked Plains of Texas in 1876.

Goodnight entered precipitous Palo Duro Canyon by way of an old Comanche Indian trail, drove thousands of buffalo from what is now park area and established his home ranch a few miles farther down the canyon.

In partnership with John G. Adair, Goodnight expanded his original Palo Duro Ranch into the giant JA and other holdings of more than a million acres and 100,000 cattle. He worked to preserve the buffalo, found a college, encouraged the settlement of the Plains and led a fight for law and order.

Born in Illinois March 5, 1836, Goodnight died March 12, 1929, and is buried at Goodnight.

On the eastern edge of Canyon is an historical marker noting the site of an early barbed wire fence in the Panhandle. In the latter 1800's, when fencing was needed in the treeless Texas Panhandle, the solution was barbed wire.

Joseph F. Glidden of Illinois devised and manufactured with L.L. Ellwood the first really practical barbed wire on the market. H.B. Sanborn was sent to Texas their agent, and he remained to become a builder of the Panhandle.

Wanting free access to water and grass, ranchers at first resisted fencing. Cowboys disliked it, as fewer range riders were needed on fenced lands. Old-timers grew bitter because of blocked trails, and herds had to be hauled rather than driven to market.

Newcomers wanted fencing, in order to have use of land purchased for ranching, and merchants and city-builders wanted fences to assure settlement.

The T-Anchor ranch, owned by Jot Gunter and W.B. Munson, real estate investors from Grayson County, built a line fence on this site east of Canyon in 1881, enclosing a 240,000 acre horse pasture. Also built in this area, by popular subscription, was a "drift" fence to hold cattle back from wandering south in blue northers and blizzards.

Barbed wire gradually came into general use and perhaps saved the cattle industry, because improvements in breeding and feeding were possible on fenced ranges.

Also on the highway to Palo Duro is a marker placed in 1939 by the Texas Society of Daughters of the American Colonies. It notes the feast of first Thanksgiving given by Padre Fray Juan de Padilla for Coronado and his troops in Palo Duro Canyon 79 years before the Pilgrims came to America.

On the same highway east of Canyon is a marker telling of the range of the ciboleros, Mexican buffalo hunters. They ranged the High Plains from the early 1800's to 1878. They used six foot lances to pierce the bisons' lungs, cut meat in strips and hung it to dry on ropes of cactus fiber or rawhide. After pouring tallow on the meat and rolling it, they sold it in Mexico as carne seca, jerked meat.

At the entrance to Palo Duro State Park is a marker telling about the old JA ranch, owned by Goodnight and Englishman Adair.

Taking in more than a million acres of land and grazing 101,023 head of cattle, the ranch in Palo Duro Canyon became one of the greatest cattle operations in the world.

Goodnight had become acquainted with the Palo Duro as a scout and guide for the Texas Rangers during the Civil War. He knew that the canyon, fenced in by the overhanging caprock, was an ideal spot for a ranch, as it furnished water and shelter in the winter and the adjacent plains provided ideal grazing in the summer.

The upper division of the ranch, now the park area, was reserved for the purebred, J.J. herd. The vast lower end of the JA was ranged by longhorns, gradually improved by better blood.

In 1887, the Goodnight-Adair partnership was ended, and Adair retained the JA.

In Palo Duro Park is an historical marker telling of the battle of Palo Duro Canyon on Sept. 28, 1874. It was one of the most significant battles of the 1874-75

Indian campaigns, in which columns of troops converged from five directions and harassed Indians on the Plains for more than six months.

The Fourth Cavalry under Col. Ranald S. MacKenzie, moving north from Fort Concho (now San Angelo) tracked a large band of Indians to their secret canyon camp.

Moving silently at dawn down a perilous path on the south rim, the first troops reached the canyon floor before the aroused camp fled.

Some of the warriors took up positions on the canyon walls from which they fired on the troops to give their families time to escape.

Realizing his tactical disadvantage, MacKenzie ordered the Indian camp and supplies burned and withdrew, taking along 1,400 captured horses, 1,000 of which he later destroyed.

The Cavalry suffered no casualties in the fight, and only four Indian dead were counted.

Having lost half their horses as well as all their supplies and shelter, the Indians drifted back to reservations at Fort Sill and Fort Reno.

Mrs. Marguerite Strain, who lives east of Canyon, stands by the historical marker telling of the history of Canyon. The marker is on the City Hall Building, where Mrs. Strain has worked 27 years.

This caricature is of the comic lead in "Texas," Tucker Yelldell, who is played by Jerry Williams of Canyon. Williams is also an antique dealer, gift store owner and part-time instructor at West Texas State University.

Williams (Yelldell) Has No Nap Time

The hardest time of the day for Jerry Williams of Canyon is about 5 to 7 p.m.

That's when he's ending one job and about to begin another, while most folks are starting to relax.

Antique dealer, businessman, actor and teacher are among the things that keep Williams busy.

In the mornings and afternoons, Williams runs his store, Williams Etc., in which he sells boutique-gift items and antiques.

Then it's out to Palo Duro Park Amphitheater by 7:45 p.m. for Williams who plays the comedy lead, Tucker Yelldell, in the summer production "Texas."

"Sometimes I have time for supper and a 15-minute nap before going to my second job," said Williams, who describes himself as being full of nervous energy.

"Keeping busy is good for me — it keeps me young, and I get a charge out of every day," explained Williams.

A positive, optimistic thinker, Williams said, "I even look forward to everyday, even to the problems, so that I can make them challenges."

Admitting that he usually does not get everything done, Williams said it is frustrating, but then he has something left to do the next day.

Williams' keys to life management are perseverance and determination, along with the development of self-confidence.

"I try to learn from mistakes, instead of letting them pull me down," said Williams.

About his role of Tucker Yelldell, Williams said he learns something new about Tucker every night, with each audience.

When asked how he manages the switch of personalities from the businessman to the prospector every night in a short period of time, Williams admitted that though he concentrates very hard while acting, he occasionally "blanks out."

A member of the Antique Appraisers Association, Williams said because something is old and classified as an antique does not mean it has value.

"Value is determined by aesthetic appeal and popular demand," explained Williams, who added that demand runs in fads and differs from locale to locale.

One of the most recent popular antiques are Japanese Nipon porcelain china. Williams, who recently sold one Nipon tea service, said the price for this china has gone up about three times in the past five years.

Antiques, however, are usually a long-term investment, as antique sales are slow-moving and depend greatly on the economy, explained Williams.

The most expensive antiques in his shop now are two chairs of a Jacobean transitional style, made in about 1700, from the Folger Shakespeare Library in Washington, D.C. Each is worth $750.

A few years ago, Williams started selling gift items also. While his clientele covers all ages, the majority is from junior high to college age levels.

"I enjoy selling antiques and gifts, and I like finding new ways to merchandise," said Williams.

When asked how a person with a bachelors degree in sociology, a masters in education and post-graduate work in speech pathology, became an antique appraiser and gift shop owner, Williams said he really does not know.

Having had no business courses, Williams said he thinks the best training is vocational on-the-job work.

Williams had a certificate of clinical competency in speech pathology from the American Speech and Hearing Association, and he teaches the subject in night classes at West Texas State University during fall and spring semesters.

The Canyon native is also a consulting speech therapist for the Amarillo Speech and Hearing Center.

When Jerry Williams says that he's a person who must keep busy, one can look at Williams the storeowner, the actor, the teacher and the antique appraiser and know that he does just that.

ON THE COVER OF "TEXAS FARMER STOCKMAN" (the August issue) in full color is the picture of Scott Stubblefield and his quarter horse.

Scott, a WTSU student majoring in agriculture, is currently president of the National American Junior Quarter Horse Association.

Inside the magazine is an article written by Scott (as told to one of the Stockman's correspondents) with a picture with cutline about WTSU horse program.

The article on page four is titled "How to Win With Horses—Start and Stay Right". An insert on page five tells that the WTSU horse program is "unique in the Southwest".

BETH KIMBROUGH OLIVER has been in the city for several days visiting her mother, Mrs. Frank Kimbrough.

Beth is married to Col. George Oliver who is the Brigade Commander at Ft. Belvoir, Virginia and the son of the W.T. Olivers (former Canyonites) (the Col. is also the nephew of the late George Nance).

Their daughter, Kim and Julie Saunders have been "having a great time in Texas" for a good part of the summer. The girls became close friends while at the Washington Ballet Academy, 1 understand.

One of the most interesting background items I can think of about Beth is that she was one of the advance people who toured the nation with Mrs. Francis Humphrey Howard (sister of Hubert), during the 1968 campaign. Beth noted that she learned a lot that year.

The Olivers are now close personal friends of Texas Congressman and Mrs. Graham Purcell, now of Canyon.

"I met Nancy at a Texas State Society event after hearing so many nice things about her," Beth mentioned. "She is certainly charming."

"Congressman Purcell is such a respected man in Washington," she pointed out, saying that she would be aiding in his re-election campaign.

The charming Kimbrough home at 2000 5th Ave., by the way, has recently been sold and Bernice has purchased a townhouse located at 3113 W. 28th in Amarillo.

Mrs. Kimbrough will spend a great deal of her time in Canyon, visiting her life long friends, I am sure.

B/GENERAL RICHARDT. KIGHT will be the guest speaker at the upcoming Claude School Homecoming, the Alumni Association has announced.

Kight, a member of the Class of 1931, is well remembered as the pilot who flew Wendell Wilkie around the world. His accomplishments in service to his country were even greater as he served as Commanding Officer at various important military bases and installations.

His most important assignment was with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Claude's Homecoming is set for Saturday, September 23 with registration in the grade school gym at 9:30 a.m., the program at 2 p.m. in the school auditorium, a coffee at 4 p.m. at the grade school.

My thanks to Cassie Nelson, alumni secretary for sharing this news with readers. Cassie is a former Canyon resident-daughter of the late Rev. Johnny R. Hicks.

ATRIPTO HAWAII for $399 is being offered to members of the Texas Federation of Women's Club.

The trip departs September 2 from Dallas/Houston. For further information write TFWC, 2312 San Gabriel Street, Austin, Texas, 78705.

The trip includes a champagne breakfast every morning, festive cocktail party every evening, gourmet dinner nightly, round trip via American Airlines and luxury accommodations at the Hawaiian Regent at Waikiki.

Sounds great, doesn't it? Let me know if you think a group might be going from Canyon.

DOROTHY AND JOE HAWKINS have recently returned to the city from a trip to the Marriott in Dallas where Dorothy completed Course II with the Texas Realtors Institute.

The course included single family residential properties, tax free exchanges, syndication, marketing, construction, appraisal, commercial property, advance marketing, and administrative techniques.

A NEW EATING PLACE IN DALLAS, Dorothy mentioned, is called "The Celebration" and features family styled meals served in a atmosphere-filled candlelight setting.

None of the 18 employees are over 25 years—with owner-manager Ed Loe, 23.

"The Celebration" is located at 4503 W. Lover's Lane in a converted home. The decor is in the earth colors, reflecting the young people's interest in ecology and the tables are hammered copper sheets.

On the menu there's everything from pot roast of veal and baked chicken to red snapper and spaghetti. Fresh vegetables are rotated nightly and include swiss charred greens (wish we had the recipe), black-eyed peas, green beans, crowder peas, corn on the cob, sweet potatoes and Irish potatoes.

Handcranked ice cream and homemade bisquits round out the meal which costs a reasonable $2 to $4.

"The Celebration" is open from 5:30 to 11:00 each evening—no reservations are accepted and the seating capacity is 72.

TEN SONS OF OLIVER is a limited publication about the Crain Clan a few years back—I thought you might like to know that Cristler has written the biographical information for several of the personalities there-in.

The limited edition (200 copies) came out this month and is authored by Dr. and Mrs. Solon Crain of Midland.

Free Lunch Is Offered

The Canyon school system will offer again this year free lunches or lunches at reduced prices for underprivileged students.

The lunch program is in compliance with guidelines from the Texas Education Agency, according to School Supt. Jerry Jacobs.

The free lunches or lunches at a reduced price are provided by the school system based on family income, size of family and number of children in school, Jacobs said.

A letter will be sent home with each Canyon school student explaining the free lunch program. The letter will include charts showing income and family size categories which qualify students for free lunches or lunches at reduced rates.

Jacobs said the charge to students who can afford to pay is 40 cents in the elementary schools, 45 cents in junior high and 50 cents in high school.

"However, since some families find it difficult to pay the full price, the school will provide lunches free or at a reduced price to children determined by the principal of each school to be unable to pay the full price for their lunches," Jacobs said.

He said families who feel their children may be eligible for free or reduced-price lunches may make application to the principal of the school attended by the child or children involved.

Copies of application forms for the meals are available from the schools. Applications must be completed, signed by an adult member of the family and sent to the school principal.

"Applications will be reviewed promptly and within ten days the family will be notified in writing of the decision made," he said. "All information provided on the application will be held in the strictest confidence."

The superintendent said any unusual circumstances or hardship which affects a family's ability to pay for school lunches will also be considered.

As an example, Jacobs said if a family experiences a prolonged illness, unexpected expenses due to fire, flood or any other disaster, seasonal employment and similar emergencies.

"If a family is not satisfied with the decision made on an application, it may request a hearing to appeal the decision," Jacobs said. "This request may be made orally or in writing to the superintendent at his office."

In addition, Jacobs said the school district's formal free lunch and reduced price lunch policy statement and the procedure to be followed when a decision is appealed are on file in each principal's office and may be reviewed by any interested person.

Jacobs said students receiving free lunches have been encouraged to pay for them by working around the school.

For a quick family lunch or informal picnic, make Ham 'N' Cheese Rolls. Fill hot-dog buns with diced ham and Swiss cheese in a lively sour cream dressing, spiked with olives and green onions. Serve with mugs of cold milk.

A New Sandwich Idea

It's National Sandwich month and a new sandwich idea is always welcome, especially this time of year. With the end of summer's picnic season and the look toward back-to-school lunch routine, sandwiches are on the menu often.

So here's a fresh one to add to your sandwich recipe collection

Canyon Man Graduates

Airman Ralph H. Neuman, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Neuman, 200 N. 14th St., Canyon, Tex., has been graduated at Chanute AFB, Ill. from the U.S. Air Force instrument systems equipment specialist course, conducted by the Air Training Command.

Airman Neuman, who studied the operation and maintenance of flight instruments, is being assigned to Sheppard AFB, Tex., for duty. He will serve with a unit of the Air Training Command which provides flying, technical and basic military training for U. S. Air Force personnel.

The airman is a 1971 graduate of Canyon High School.

— Ham 'N' Cheese Rolls. This sandwich will please youngsters because it's got some of their favorite foods in it — ham, cheese and hot-dog buns.

The filling can be made up early in the day, even the night before. It's a simple mixture of leftover cooked ham, cut into cubes, diced Swiss cheese, chopped eggs and a sour cream salad dressing. While dairy sour cream has its own bright, tangy flavor, this recipe adds extra zip with chopped green onions, stuffed olives and a dash of mustard. The whole sandwich can be assembled in advance, right down to toasting and buttering the buns, spooning the filling inside and wrapping it all in aluminum foil.

At lunch time, just pop those foil-wrapped rolls into the oven long enough to heat through. The flavors are even better when they have time to blend and mellow. And this sandwich is packed with good nutrition as well as flavor. Both cheese and sour cream supply valuable milk protein and other food elements.

Ham 'N' Cheese Rolls make a pleasing family lunch; just add relishes to nibble and plenty of refreshing milk to drink. They're fine fare for an autumn picnic.

too. Carry along the wrapped sandwiches in your picnic basket or cooler, and heat them on the charcoal grill.

Gene Howe News Wallises Return from Canada

By TROYCE MULHERIN
GREETINGS:

WAYNE AND JEANNE Wallises and children, Kendra and Marty, have returned from a journey to Calgary, Alberta, Canada. Jay Wallis and wife, Evelyn, and children, Larry, Jaylene and Donna, of Lefors, joined the Amarillo Wallises on the sojourn, covering over 3500 miles. Each family pulled its own travel trailer and were quite impressed with the number of Texans they met in the various camps they stayed in during their trip. En route to Canada, the group drove through some breathtaking mountain country on the way to Cody, Wyoming.

WHILE IN CODY, the Wallises toured the Buffalo Bill Historical Center. They timed their stay in Canada to coincide with the 60th Anniversary of the Calgary Stampede celebration. The Calgary Stampede is one of the most spectacular of all Western rodeos, in which top performers take part. The Wallises particularly enjoyed the Chuck wagon and the thoroughbred horse racing. When the rodeo and races were over, young Canadians pulled a portable stage onto the rodeo arena, and the travelers were treated to a musical program, various comedy acts, and a high fireworks display. The Wallises were intrigued with the Indian dance contests. Participants came from all parts of the country and wore traditional costumes. Entries were eliminated by strict rules and regulations with the judging being quite exact.

THE GROUP ALSO spent some time at Lake Louise, which is about 70 miles from Calgary. Jeanne said the scenery was stunning and well worth the extra miles on the speedometer. They stayed in Glacier National Park in Montana, in Yellowstone National Park and the Grand Teton National Park in Wyoming on their way back home. All in all, it was a fantastic trip for the Wallises, and one they will be reliving for a long time to come.

DARLYNE BELL COULD have made a comparatively similar trip considering the mileage put on her car during the baseball season. All three sons, Mike, Monte and Donnie, made all-stars in their respective leagues and Mike's team won championship; and as you baseball parents know, making those games entails a lot of driving.

THE BILL PHILLIPS family enjoyed their stay at Mink Haven Lodge in Antonito, Colorado. The Conejos River being conveniently handy, they got some fishing in. Margie says she broke her record, did not catch one fish. Heretofore she has always caught one fish. They joined some friends there and caught up on some much needed rest and learned a lot of new card games. Bill compensated for Margie's fishing luck and contributed his fair share to a big fish fry before heading home to Amarillo in preparation for school starting.

THOSE MAGIC WORDS "school starting"—beautiful and welcomed words. Only eighteen, count them, eighteen days until the First Day of School. Gene Howe students will register on the 17th of August. A through K people will register from 8:30 to 12:00, and L through Z students register from 1:30 to 4:00. Early registration for students new to Gene Howe will start August 2. Parents with children attending Gene Howe for the first time might want to call the office at 355-6501 and let them know you're coming.

TOGETHER WITH OTHER face-lifting and final touches in preparation for the onslaught of anxious students, the stage floor has been sanded and revarnished—looks like new. A much-welcomed and needed kindergarten class will become a part of Gene Howe's composition, too. This class has already been filled with aspiring scholars and Carol Hollingsworth is scheduled as their instructor. Welcome class and welcome Mrs. Hollingsworth!

WELCOME BACK TO Mrs. Mary Jo Smith, who will resume her teaching career at Gene Howe this year.

CORRECTION—THE DIFFERENCE between junior high and high school is more important to those involved. It was mistakenly reported last week that Sherry Ford will act as twirler for Canyon Junior High—Sherry will act as twirler for Canyon High. Sorry about that slight (?) error, Sherry.

HAPPY ANNIVERSARY to Dick and Beth Dalke on the 6th.

THE DAVE CORONADOS have returned from the races at Raton and from a pleasant camping trip to Tres Ritos. Their trip had added enjoyment upon the arrival of the T. R. Staffords, the Jim Rileys, the Bobby Hulseys and the Gene Bettys—all on different days. The group had a fine time riding their cycles on the trails and drinking in the beauty of the scenery.

PETE AND ADA Solbrig have been entertaining friends and relatives on a full schedule these past few weeks. Mr. and Mrs. George Hahne of Dodge City, Kansas, have been visiting in the Solbrig home, as has Mrs. Sid (Evelyn) Pate and her children from Escondido, California. Ada's mommie and daddy, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Mears enjoyed their visit, too. Mr. Mears recently celebrated his birthday and he and Mrs. Mears were feted with a dinner party in observance of their 48th wedding anniversary. These festivities were held at the Mears' home in Vega, with many friends and family members joining in for the fun.

REGRET TO REPORT that the Gene Howe area has lost some fine people who have moved to where the fun is. The Elvis Tyler family will have taken up residence at Possum Kingdom when you are reading this. The Tylers were given an opportunity to fulfill their retirement plans a wee bit early and took advantage of the opportunity. The family will manage the marina and lodge located on the lake on a year-around basis, with hunting in the winter months and fishing and water sports for summer people. Along with their other chores, they will operate a small cafe and a supply store. Curtis, Sherry and Brenda will attend school in Graham. The Tyler family is very enthusiastic about the move and looking forward to having playtime and worktime wrapped up in one neat package. Sorry to lose this fine family, but wish them only the best and success in their endeavors.

MR. AND MRS. Hugh Cowser of Enid, Oklahoma, have been the recent houseguest of Don and Raydell Palmer, taking time out from a family reunion in Palo Duro to spend a few days with the Palmers.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO Weldell Trainmell, who celebrated on the 31st. The Trainmells have recently returned from a stay in Red River, New Mexico. Linda said the children, Donnie, Chris and Jennifer were quite taken with the fish at the hatchery out of Red River. Some of the fish were bigger than Jennifer who is just ten months old. They also toured the Indian Villages on their visit to Taos. Back home to do some remodeling around the homestead.

LORI MCNABB CELEBRATED her 9th birthday with a slumber party. Her happy was on the 31st and we wish you many more, Lori.

LISA ERWIN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Erwin, spent part of the weekend visiting and horse riding with Kendra Wallis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Wallis. The good times these girls enjoyed could cause some of us to yearn for childhood fun again.

MR. AND MRS. Gene Bural and their four sons have returned from The Lake of the Ozarks near Camden-ton, Missouri. They pulled their boat and camped out, tent and all. The hot and humid weather encouraged them to cut their vacation short, but not before Dale and Kevin learned to ski on one ski (each). Wesley and Mark took to the resort life like bees to honey and got some skiing in, too. Mark was the reluctant recipient of nine swats on his birthday on the 2nd.

PRETTY NEW FACE in the Gene Howe area belongs to Lori Rudd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rudd. Lori has been living and working in California; and, when the Rudds returned from a recent trip to California, they brought Lori home with them. She will be continuing her education this fall at West Texas State University. While in California the Rudds took Terry on their annual pilgrimage to Disney Land, and reportedly enjoyed this visit just as much, if not more, than the ones previously. They visited with Barbara's mother, Mrs. Fern Foster, in Los Angeles for a week. Then on to New Port with Barbara's sister, Sue Gilbert. They rented a summer home at New Port and spent their days lolling around on the beach, taking in the sun and surf for a week.

OUR FEARLESS leader's lovely bride is busily setting their new home in order at 8412 Olympia. Brenda and Luther Lawless are pleased to be located close to Gene Howe School, and we are happy to have them residing in our territory. ERNESTINE HARP WILL make her appearance in this time slot next week. Many of you will remember that Ernestine wrote the Gene Howe News some years ago (she won't say how many); so, she's not new to the game. Know you will enjoy reading her guest column—even more so, if you will call her your news at 355-0028.

THANKS FOR THE use of the hall, and thank you, School Board, for August 21st. Troyce.

Guilty Plea Nets Fine

Robert Earl Lahey pleaded guilty Tuesday to a charge of possession of a dangerous drug before Randall County Judge Woody Pond.

Pond assessed a fine of $150 plus court costs and a sentence of 30 days in jail probated for six months.

Surrounded by trophies, Rick Lyles of 410 Taylor Lane, proudly stands by his new Penton 100 motorcycle. Sixteen-year-old Rick also races a Hodaka 100 in short-track events.

Local Boys Ride Cycles To Bring Home Trophies

While bicycle fever seems to have invaded Canyon, several local boys have been bringing home trophies for the more "powerful" sport of motorcycle racing.

Sixteen-year-olds Jamie Walker and Joe Moss of the Palisades and Ricky Lyles of 410 Taylor Lane won a total of seven trophies in recent races.

Ricky, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lyles, races a new 100 Penton in motocross and a 100 Hodaka in short track racing.

Rick recently won two third-places in motocross at the Amarillo Speedbowl, bringing his total to twenty trophies.

Rick rides his short-tracker at the newly-opened Panhandle Downs, a mile west of UMBARGER.

This past week Rick has worked to repair his Penton seat and fiberglass gas tank, which were "torn up" at the Lubbock races last weekend.

"I like both motocross and short track racing, but I guess I really like to race motocross best," Rick said.

Rick finds time to work on his cycles in the evenings after working at a local gas station in the mornings and afternoons.

Jamie Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Walker of the Palisades, won second in the TT-scrambles and first and fourth in motocross at the Amarillo Speedbowl recently.

With his new 100 Penton, Jamie also won a second place at Clarendon Greenbelt racing

Mike Voelm Farewelled At Club Fete

Friends of Mike Voelm gave him a "going away" swimming party at the Canyon Country Club last Sunday evening. Voelm left for a period of service with the Navy yesterday.

Hamburgers and hot dogs, chips, punch, nut cups, cake and orange-pineapple ice cones were served from the serving table decorated in colors of red, white, and blue.

Those in attendance were Pam Jolly, Leslie Baird, Terry Jo Reynolds, Kevin McClish, Becky Miller, Rodney Collier, Sheri Stribling, Sharon Henders, Raby Ratliff, Wayne Ramsey, Kenny Barton, Hoss Ratliff, Gary Reynolds, Jeannine Bewley, Tom Giffert, Dana Oliver, Mike Jolly, Steve Baird, Carla Ratliff, David Henders, and the honoree's parents Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Voelm and sister Patricia.

Jamie said he usually races every weekend, often with his family accompanying him to Perryton, Lubbock or Clarendon.

"Motocross is supposed to be the second most physically demanding sport in the world (soccer is the first)," explained Jamie.

He added that he has won six trophies in the past three weeks and had already garnered five on his old motorcycle.

Jamie works part time at an

Mrs. Bettie Davis of 2512 9th Ave. holds letters and a quilt received from her pen pal of 17 years, Mrs. Maggie Wilcox of Marysville, Calif.

Woman Is Pen Pal For 17 Years Here

By LINDA LOCKETT

The post office in Marysville, Calif. has been sorting letters from a Canyon woman for 17 years.

Mrs. Bettie Davis of 2512 9th Ave. has been a pen pal of 77-year-old Maggie Wilcox for about 17 years, and she also wrote Mrs. Winnie Gillespie of Baton Rouge, La., until Mrs. Gillespie died two years ago.

"When I was young and married and didn't have much to do, I wrote to the two ladies asking for pen pals in a farm journal magazine," explained Mrs. Davis.

Mrs. Davis' correspondence with Mrs. Wilcox continued until the post office returned a letter with the information that the 84-year-old woman had died.

"She had no family and had been in a wheelchair since 1917, so that our correspondence probably meant a lot to her," Mrs. Davis related.

"She did not share much with me about any relatives and mostly wrote about the weather or her plants. One time she was robbed, and the stationery and stamps I sent her were taken too," Mrs. Davis said.

Unlike the Louisiana woman, Mrs. Wilcox wrote Mrs. Davis about her family and shared experiences about her work for a California Baptist mission.

Mrs. Davis, who is also Baptist, said, "Mrs. Wilcox always shares her love and a prayer blessing in her letters, which have meant a lot to me."

On June 18, Mrs. Davis received a quilt from Mrs. Wilcox, who used to make many quilts for the California mission. Mrs. Davis had sent Mrs. Wilcox quilt scraps for her projects.

Amarillo grocery store and said he usually works on his Penton the Friday and Saturday nights before races.

Jamie's neighbor, Joe Moss came in first in the TT-scrambles and fifth in motocross last Sunday on his Penton 125.

Another Palisades resident, Randy Carthel, not only races but also works in an Amarillo motorcycle shop.

The Canyon area seems to be well represented with winners at the growing number of area motorcycle races.

Appearances Set At WT

Programs suited for all tastes—from classical music to Dixieland jazz, from foreign diplomats to movie personalities—are booked for the 1972-1973 West Texas State University Special Programs series.

Dr. John Green, chairman of the Special Programs committee announced that six presentations will be offered on the series this year, with remaining program funds going to partially finance special offerings presented by individual departments.

All programs are scheduled at 8 p.m. in the Activities Center Ballroom.

Opening the series on Sept. 14 will be DeJans Olympia Brass Band. The 10-member New Orleans ensemble is booked from Preservation Hall of New Orleans, renowned for its distinctive brand of Black jazz and blues. Highlighting the performance will be a pre-concert parade in which the Southern minstrels will march around the campus, ending the procession at the Activities Center, where they will perform in concert in the ballroom.

Scheduled Oct. 10 will be an informal "rap session" with famed basketball titan and sports announcer Bill Russell. The first player-coach in the history of the Boston Celtics, Russell was the first black to manage full-time in a major league of any sport. He was named "Sportsman of the Year" by Sports Illustrated in 1968, and in 1970 was cited as "Athlete of the Decade."

Concluding the fall series on Nov. 1, will be the Dorian Quintet, resident woodwind ensemble at Brooklyn and Hunter Colleges of New York City. The group has concertized all over the world and currently holds the position of University-Wide Artists-in-Residence for the entire State University of New York. The ensemble's clarinetist, Jerry Kirkbride, is a former student of Dr. Green, and Dr. Gary Garner, professor of music at WTSU.

The spring season opener on Feb. 12 will be a lecture by Pauline Frederick, NBC United Nations Correspondent. Now in her 14th year with NBC, Miss Frederick holds 13 honorary degrees and numerous awards for her outstanding work in broadcast journalism. From the UN she has reported on upheavals in Korea, the Suez, Hungary, the Middle East, Laos, the Congo, Cuba and the Dominican Republic, as well as on the Nuremberg trials and national political conventions and elections.

All scheduled programs were selected by a five-member committee consisting of Dr. Green, Miss Elizabeth Davidson, assistant professor of history; Kenneth H. Olsen, assistant professor of business; Mrs. Jean Roberts, associate dean of student life for women, and Charles E. Wright, associate professor of biology.

superintendent of Petersburg public schools Monday. He was emphasizing his agreement with the philosophy of the Opportunity Plan, Inc., and Milton Morris, executive vice-president of OPI.

"This is what OPI is all about: it helps a kid help himself, and I've seen dozens of kids go on to school and make good because of the Opportunity Plan," Wilson continued.

Morris was in Petersburg Monday to interview student applicants for OPI, and to meet with the board of directors of the Petersburg Community Division. Since its beginning in 1967, that Division has sponsored 21 students in various schools on the OPI, and will add to that number by three or four for the 1972 fall semester, possibly sending new students to WTSU, TSTI, and Amarillo College.

Wilson had worked with Morris directly on the Opportunity Plan, Inc. staff for a year, and he boasted that the OPI philosophy "really took with me." Many of the civic organizations in Petersburg, he explained, which formerly gave scholarships to high school graduates, now contribute those monies to the OPI through the Petersburg Division. Other monies are received as memorials, while many are solicited as annual memberships.

"Petersburg Division is one of the finest community groups in the organization," Morris declares. Chairman of the board of directors, L. K. Gregory, is a civic-minded farmer whose children are past school age, but who is anxious to help provide challenges for other students in his community. Morris praised the total cooperation of school officials and civic members in Petersburg.

Morris has returned to Canyon after a week's junket into the towns of Muleshoe, Hereford, Bovina, Happy, Hale Center, Tulia and Abernathy. A new community division was organized last week in Abernathy with a start of $1800.

WT Coaches, Big Brothers Team On Golf

West Texas State University's football coaches will join with the Big Brothers of Amarillo Aug. 12 to sponsor an open golf tournament at Ross Rogers Golf Course in Amarillo.

Gary McDade of Big Brothers said the tournament is open to all comers.

The WTSU coaches will be playing along with local celebrities in the benefit for Big Brothers.

A $20 entry fee will be charged. McDade said the money will go to the Amarillo group for financing other Big Brother projects.

Registration will be accepted by mail through Aug. 7 at the Big Brothers office.

Winners of the tournament will receive $100 apiece plus various merchandise donated by Amarillo and Canyon merchants. Season tickets to home WT games will also be given away.

McDade said Big Brothers of Amarillo now helps about 100 boys, but with adequate funding could reach as many as 400 more in this area.

Umberger Garage Sale Set

BY SUSAN DOLLE

DO YOU HAVE any picture frames, lawn mowers, or duck decoys that are taking up space around your home? There is a great place to take them—the Umberger Community Association will be holding a garage sale next Saturday, August 12 in the school gym.

LOTS OF ITEMS are needed to make the benefit sale a successful one: all donations will be appreciated. However, if you have furniture or other more expensive items that you want to sell, the association will handle them for a 10% commission.

THE GARAGE SALE will be held from 9:00 a.m. until 1:00 p.m. It is hoped there will be a large turnout of buyers from the surrounding areas, so many items will be needed. Donors can bring the items to the gym any night next week; a committee will be there to display and price them.

ASSOCIATION MEMBERS who will be heading committees are Mr. and Mrs. L.L. Raef, display and pricing; Mrs. Jim Skarke, food; Vincent Meyer, Sr., clean up; and Melvin Wick, signs.

TIME IS SHORT. The sale is 10 days away. Locate your items and bring them to the gym next week. Your neighbor might have some good junk that you could swap for some of yours.

PROCEEDS FROM THE day's sale will be used for the activities of the Community Association.

PISTOLS AND PETTICOATS Square Dancing Club is planning a picnic and evening of dancing at Buffalo Lake August 20. Basket lunches will be served at 6:30 and dancing will begin at 7:30. The club will hold its regular dance this Sunday evening at 8:00 in the parish hall. Susan Lindemann, club sweetheart, will be presented at the Sweetheart Dance in Canyon this Saturday evening at the Activities Center on the WTSU campus.

THE HABIT OF getting into the car in the garage became not so commonplace to Patricia Batenhorst last week when she heard the buzz for the key and a rattling simultaneously.

IN THE GARAGE, she found a rattle snake standing tall and proud. The snake was determined to be about three years old by Patricia's dad, Sylvester, even though it sported thirteen buttons. It will be a while before Patricia goes into the garage without thinking about that snake.

MR. AND MRS. Bernard Wilhelm and children Danny, Janet, Gerald, and Edwin traveled to Yellowstone Park last week. They also visited Elmer Friemel at Ft. Lyons, Colo. before returning home Thursday.

MR. AND MRS. Sylvester Batenhorst and daughter Jane and niece Donna visited the John Voerwalds in Salida, Colo. and toured Denver for three days. They returned home last week.

Grandson For Wirts

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Wirt of Canyon have a new grandson. Christopher Todd Tardy was born July 12 in Irving, Tex.

He weighed 9 lbs. 2 oz. at birth and was 22 1/2 inches in length.

Christopher is the son of Don and Debbie Wirt, Debbie is the former Debbie Wirt, a Canyon High School graduate in 1966. She attended West Texas State University. Don is from Roaring Springs. He also attended WTSU.

Christopher is the Wirt's second grandson.

Scott Pool, Amarillo senior at West Texas State University, shows the proper hand grip to Kir Farquhar and Robert Fox of Midland during the first day of the West Texas Tennis Camp on the university campus. The camp, which is sponsored by WTSU, has attracted about 57 youths from 8 to 18. The camp continues through this week.

SIESTA PLAYA APPRECIATION Day was a big success. Everyone who attended had a great time. Loma Linda residents won the volleyball tournament, but not without a lot of resistance from the Siesta Lane residents. Lanny Long won first place in the Ping-Pong tournament. Randy Jordan was second and Barrett Staples was third.

IT WAS SUGGESTED by many to have a "Get Together" once a month. The management will be inquiring to find a committee to plan to socials.

LIFE-SAVING COURSES were held in the Siesta Plaza pool and three were awarded certificates. Chris Caldwell was awarded a senior lifesaving certificate. Brenda Lindsey was also awarded a senior lifesaving certificate. A junior lifesaving certificate went to Dalone Rowland. Steve Donnelly, a certified Red Cross instructor, conducted the courses.

SIESTA PLAZA welcomes more newcomers: Mr. and Mrs. Larry Stallings and their five year old daughter, 265 Loma Linda; Mr. and Mrs. Todd Rea, 218 LaFiesta; Dana Duke, 247 Loma Linda; Mr. and Mrs. Don Cooper, 226 Loma Linda; and Rex Gore, 259 Loma Linda.

Kindergarten Will Expand

Canyon schools' kindergarten program will expand to Gene Howe Elementary School beginning this fall.

The pre-school program is aimed for what authorities term "educationally handicapped children."

School Supt. Jerry Jacobs said Tuesday the Gene Howe kindergarten program will include about 20 children.

A similar program has been underway at Rex Reeves Elementary in Canyon since the 1970-71 school year, which it was first required by the state.

Twenty students are also expected to be enrolled at Rex Reeves this fall.

Jacobs said possible students for the kindergarten program were screened last spring by faculty representatives.

Beginning with the 1973 school year, the school district kindergarten program will be open to any students in the district without qualification. They must be between the ages of 5 years and seven months and six years.

Gradually, the age group allowed to attend will be expanded until any children between 5 and 6 will be allowed into kindergarten in 1977.

The Gene Howe program this fall will be taught by Mrs. Hollingsworth.

Sherman Acres News Newcomers Welcomed

By MARY JO GRIFFIN

HELLO AGAIN FROM the little ole neighborhood on the west side of the Amarillo expressway. Will share with you some of the happenings out our way this week.

THERE ARE THREE families fairly new to our neighborhood and we'd like to introduce them to our readers. They are the Stanley Simons, the Garner Lees and the William Janelles. Welcome to you all.

STANLEY AND DOT Simons and children live at the corner of McCormick Road and the expressway. Their children are Paula, Ricky, Jackie, Michael, Peggy, Susie, Teresa and Melin.

Fall Training Next Week

Football season is getting closer and fall training is only two weeks away for Canyon High School's Eagles.

Coach Ron Mills, who is looking for a standout team this year, said Eagle players will be issued shoes and socks from 9-10:30 a.m. and 2-9 p.m. Aug. 9 at the school dressing room.

Then, on Aug. 14, the Eagles will begin fall conditioning. Mills said the team will go through regular workouts without equipment and without contact. Workouts will be each day from 9:10:30 a.m. and from 7-9 p.m. until school begins.

Equipment will be issued on Aug. 18 and contact work will begin for the team on that day.

The Eagles will play their first scrimmage against Roswell Goddard at Friona on Aug. 25.

Another scrimmage will be played against Friona at Friona on Sept. 1.

Local Man At Camp

Ft. Riley, Kan.—Cadet Philip L. Moore, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy N. Moore, Route 3, Comanche, Tex., is receiving practical work in military leadership at the Army Reserve Officers Training Corps Advanced Summer Camp at Ft. Riley, Kan., from June 17-July 28.

Cadet Moore, who received a B.S. degree from West Texas State University, Canyon, this year, is one of more than 10,000 students attending Army ROTC training at six installations in the U.S.

The six-week ROTC Advanced Camp provides an opportunity for cadets to develop and demonstrate leadership capabilities in a field training environment. The instruction supplements theories and concepts which cadets learned in the classroom on campus.

Cadets normally attend the training between their junior and senior years. This enables them to better comprehend their final year of classroom work and to function as cadet leaders on campus.

The cadet is a 1966 graduate of Breckenridge (Tex.) High School. He and his wife, Edie, live at 2107 Sixth Ave., Canyon, Tex.

Palisades Palaver

BY VICKI HOOKER

A "GARAGE RAISING" took place at Russ and Wanda Molyneaux's Sunday, and concluded with a scrumptious barbecue meal enjoyed by all. The Molyneaux's are finishing up their Palisades home so they can eventually move into it permanently. Helping Russ in the endeavor have been neighbors Gerald Seitz, Charlie Hooker, Randy Hooker, Stan Hooker, and Mark McGahey. Later Sunday night Joe and Louise Lovan joined the group and while the women visited in the unfinished garage, the men were busy playing pool in the house. Charlie claims he beat everyone, but I'd imagine we'd get a different story from Russ, Gerald and Joe!

MANY THANKS to our neighbors, Dan, Carolyn and Brent Bailey, who took the time Sunday afternoon to mow and cut weeds around the outside of our gate. It certainly looks neater, and we all appreciate the Bailey's efforts.

"CALIFORNIA OR BUST" could have been the slogan of Ernest and Margie Carlile's recent journey to Earnest's brother's, Ewel, who lives 50 miles north of Sacramento. Travelling with the Carliles were Earnest's two sisters, one from Dumas and the other from Amarillo.

ON THE WAY, they enjoyed such sites as the Hoover Dam, Grand Canyon Caverns in Arizona, and Stovepipe Wells Village in Death Valley, then through the beautiful mountain country (over which Margie had the dubious privilege of driving) in California.

ON THE WAY home they took a different route and visited such points of interest as the "World Famous Hole in the Rock Home" in Mohab, Utah, and Wolf Creek Pass in Colorado.

(Margie drove over that one too!) The pass, which is 16 miles long, is full of winding turns, and Margie said driving it was an experience, to say the least! But we're certainly glad they had a safe trip and are home again.

THE OTHER Carlile family, Buster and Marcella, left last Tuesday for a vacation to Indianapolis, where they will view the Micro-Midget races. But more on that when they return.

DOUG AND GREG Moore, sons of Jarriel and Nell Moore, are enjoying the company of cousins Chris and Carmel Moore, who are visiting them this week from McLean. Greg and Chris are near the same age, and so are Doug and Carmel. But Nell has found out that when it comes to the children playing together, their ages play a very small part when three males and one female are involved!

ELLI BOOTHE returned to work last Monday after being ill with a virus for two weeks. Apparently Elli is feeling much better now, however she is still pretty weak. So glad to hear you are up and around again, Elli, and we hope you stay well!

RANDY CARTEL proved his riding ability to be superb again last Saturday night at the Amarillo Civic Center Coliseum. In the third race of the money heats he placed third, and in the Feature race of the main events he placed second. Good going, Randy. We like to see that kind of racing coming from the Jeffers, will be moving soon to Washburn. We hate to see them go, but this will put Mr. Jeffers closer to his work. They do not know the exact date when they'll be leaving so more on that later when they find out.

BOARD MEMBERS, don't forget board meeting Tuesday night, August 8 at 7:30 at Bob Walker's. And Palisades residents, if you have a grievance, or something to discuss, please feel free to attend the meeting, too!

SPEAKING OF MEETINGS, Nell Moore said the first Gene Howe PTA Board Meeting will be Tuesday, August 8, 2:00 p.m. at the school. My, where has the summer gone?

ALSO, OUR FIRST Home Demonstration Club meeting will be September 7. Don't know where or when yet, but I can hardly wait to see everyone again and find out about their summer vacations!

IF YOU DON'T read "Palisades Palaver" in next week's paper it's because I will have gone to Dallas. If you have news though, please call me and I'll do my best to get it in. See ya!

Lake Tanglewood News

WEDDING BELLS can be heard ringing from all sides of the lake this week! Richard Don Shawgo, whose mother owns a lot on the lake will tie the knot with Jody Thomas on August 4 at the First Presbyterian Church of Amarillo. Richard is the nephew of Lawrence and Claudine Van Doran.

A SUNRISE wedding ceremony will take place August 5 at Ken and Paula Hanna's. Their daughter, Alana, will be married to Bob Hogan at 6:58 a.m. After their honeymoon they will reside in Houston.

A MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER was given at the home of Mary Morris July 22 for Pam Hunter and Alan Fletcher. The shower, which was a come-and-go affair, was hosted by Mrs. Morris, Paula Hanna and Fran Klein. Pam and Alan will be married on the 18th.

WE'RE GLAD to hear Miles Hanna is doing better after his run-in with a storm door. No details are available, but Miles had 17 stitches taken in his arm!

GENE AND FRAN Klein have gone to San Diego with Arnette Brown to pick up her husband, Irl, and son Webb at a summer camp there. Gene has been travelling a lot lately! He recently returned from an eleven-day trip to Colorado. His four grandsons, Keith, David, Gene and John accompanied him on the tour.

THAT'S ALL for this time! Please, Please, turn in your news to Claudine Van Doran! She's beginning to feel a little neglected and is considering quitting her job as news gatherer! We can't have that, now can we? So give her a buzz at 622-1681, this week!

Neighbors Share Summer Fun

By TOOTIE BYBEE

HELLO THERE, YOU-all, and how are you this week?? Guess you have realized by now that our wonderful fun filled summer is very rapidly coming to an end. Sure do hate that. If you haven't quite faced up to it, I bet those kiddoes of yours have!! All good times must come to an end, but school will be another adventure for them all.

HAD LOTS OF neighbors busy this past week and wanted to tell you about a few of them.

ONE OF THE most pleasant things happened this week. Was shopping out at Sears and was getting ready to leave and a man asked if I was the lady who wrote for the Canyon News. Said I sure was and he introduced himself as one of our good neighbors and it sure made my day. So, a very big hello to Mr. and Mrs. Hinson on Mescalero Trail in their own house, as I was trying to place them in another house on down the street. Sure was nice to meet and get acquainted with you. Told me he had been over and met one of our new neighbors who bought the Burdette's house and they are the Garrisons. So, get by and welcome them at your first opportunity. Bet they would be real happy to meet you.

THE EVANS TOOK the young people from their Church down to Palo Duro Canyon for the day Sunday and had car trouble getting back and missed night church. But they all reported having a very nice time together.

WAS BY TO see the Whitehead's new den carpet and it was so pretty and the room is just beautiful. The new baby, Rebecca is really growing and is so sweet. Saw Roger dashing by on his motor with, Shelley, Spooky and Rosemary all hanging on at different spots.

WELL, THE BOREN'S got moved Saturday and hated to see them go. But we have a new family moved in there. It sounds like among the better ones in the nation.

Louisville and New Mexico State were established as pre-season conference favorites. This will be the first season for New Mexico State to compete for the conference title. The reason for the strong Aggie pick is the fact the team from New Mexico defeated all four of the conference teams it faced last year—Drake, West Texas State, Wichita State and North Texas State.

In order to give it five conference games, New Mexico State's game with New Mexico will also be counted toward the league title. The Aggies, with nine offensive starters returning this fall, tied New Mexico, 35-35, last year.

Other teams, in order, are Memphis State, Tulsa, Drake, North Texas State, West Texas State and Wichita State.

Comments from the coaches are as follows:

Lee Corso, Louisville—"In our last 18 games, our record is 13-3-2 and two of those losses were at the hands of Missouri Valley teams. I respect these men (other MVC coaches) and their players. We are a title contender as we have a good team and good players. We play four of our five conference games at home in Astro-Mud. That is the same as other artificial surfaces, except it sticks to your shoes when it rains. We are going to be on a New York Television show Aug. 14 as one of the nation's top 20 teams. We talk about our offense at Louisville, but we coach and teach defense. We have led the conference for two years in four departments of defense."

Rod Rust, North Texas State—"I've been a head coach in this conference since 1967 and the league has gotten tougher each year as all of the teams have improved. The addition of West Texas State to the league last year and New Mexico State this year has made the conference stronger and the race more meaningful. We anticipate a good squad this fall. We have three junior quarterbacks and feel we can have a contender with any of the three. The freshman rule will be of some help to us as some of the first year players could add depth to our team. We play four of our five home games in Texas Stadium. We hit bottom last fall with a 3-8 record and will be rebounding upward."

Fred Pancoast, Memphis State—"If I can coach football as well as Mickey Holmes runs this conference, I'll be a success. I was hired at Memphis State eight days before the start of spring training, but we were still able to have some good sessions. Our players appeared to be willing to pay the price to be good. We must play well against the Valley teams in order to have a good season. Those teams appear to be strong on film and that is the only way we have seen the MVC. I coached at Georgia prior to coming to Memphis State and have not seen any of the Missouri Valley teams in person. We will have a new look at Memphis. We have changed the offense and the defense. The offense will be more wide open than it has been in the past. We have good speed, but little size."

Jack Wallace, Drake—"This is my seventh year at Drake, but this will be only our second year to compete for the Valley title. We have had good athletes at our school. The six players who signed with the pros after last season gave us a greater total than those signed by Iowa and Iowa State combined. Dennis Redmond is a great one. He has got to have as good a throwing arm as there is in the country. Our top four receivers are all returning, led by Doug Winslow. Redmond was injured and underwent a knee operation after the final spring game. He has been throwing for a month and should be ready for West Texas State in our Sept. 16 opener. He is lifting weights and running over a mile per day."

Jim Wood, New Mexico State—"This will be our first year to compete for the title and we are certainly looking forward to the opportunity. Although we lost 19 lettermen, we return nine starters on offense. Our squad will be made up of 16 seniors, 28 juniors and 22 sophomores. We use a pro-type of offense and plan to throw the ball. Quarterback Joe Pisarcik is outstanding. This will be our second year to throw the ball. We threw 333 times last year after being a running team for several years. The conference is blessed with good quarterbacks. Each team has a quarterback returning who started at least half of the games last season. Joe was dropped for a loss only seven times last year and that speaks well for our returning offensive linemen. We were effective against the pass last fall, but must improve our defense against the running attack. Our depth, especially on defense, will be improved."

Bob Seaman, Wichita State—"The Valley has got to be tough this year. I was looking at last year's final statistics and noticed that nine of the top 10 total offense leaders are returning. We will finally have a senior class. This will be our first large group of seniors at Wichita State after the plane crash two years ago. You can't win without seniors. The freshmen who were called up to the varsity for the final half of the season following the plane crash are now juniors. They are starting to come of age and we should be improved. Although we do have a pair of fairly good running backs in Don Gilley and Jim Fenwick, we will throw the ball a great deal this fall. We hired Steve Ten-

we really have a turn over in our residents out here and I guess we do.

MRS. PATTERSON WAS by and brought Sam a jar of fresh strawberry jelly for his breakfast and told me she was looking for Toby and his little family in. She sounded so anxious to see them all. Said she had made the grandbaby a new red and white ruffled suit. Hope they enjoy the visit.

GLAD TO HAVE Kay and Karen Tow back from their visit with their Aunt and Uncle and cousin Terry in Fort Worth. They went to Seven Seas and really enjoyed it. Guess Traca Ann is glad to see Kay back, too.

LOOKS LIKE The Buckle's boys have a new play toy there in the garage. I don't know what the thing is called but it sure has a heck of a lot of wheels to roll around on. I know it isn't a dune buggy because Larry Pate just got him one of those and I see him putting around in it and it looks all together different.

I HOPE NO one thinks I am a bird brain but those who know me, know!! I love birds just a lot and have you all noticed the number of birds around this year. So very many mockingbirds, kingbirds and so on. Those little creatures are so helpful to our gardens and environment so please aim those B-B guns somewhere else. Saw just a bunch of dead meadowlarks, beautiful yellow breast just full of holes. Just made me so unhappy.

HAVE YOU SEEN the Jones' new puppy? His name is Big Bert and he is poodle and Terrier and he is a fluffy doll. I noticed that Doug kinda liked him a little bit.

SAW A LOT of you out this past week just enjoying the sunshine and lovely world God made. Saw Barbara Evans mowing the lawn (did I say enjoying!!) Saw Matt Malson and Lee Boren playing in the garage and saw Denise on the tower Matt built. Saw Mr. Shevko mowing the lawn and Mr. Woods working in his lovely yard. Saw Mr. Cook looking very tired and working in his yard. Saw Mikie and Melody Morgan jumping on the trampoline. Nothing is more fun than a wet trampoling on a hot day. Saw Glenna and Sherry taking a hike with the doggies. Saw the Robertson boys enjoying their motorcycles and Mrs. Robertson enjoying her bicycle. Saw Bo Fowlkes mowing the yard with their guest helping. Saw Jubal and Tracy Gillis having a good time on their bikes. Just saw everyone picking beans, peas, and okra this week.

WELL MUST SIGN off now. ONE LAST WORD: To I. J. Tow: I have been spending these last few weeks trying to think of something to say back to you concerning the reward about my pup. Sad to say you have the last word this time as I can't come up with a "dog gone" thing.

HEY WORLD, I'M waiting to hear from you. 622-1471

Woman's Son Wins Award

Sandy Cable, son of Mrs. Duard Earhart of 205 5th Ave., recently won two Future Farmers of America awards.

Shortly before his May graduation, Cable won the state FFA Lone Star Award and the DeKalb Outstanding Senior Award from the Cal Farley's Boys Ranch FFA Chapter.

The latter award was the highest chapter honor a senior could receive and was awarded for leadership ability, good attitude and hard work.

During his three years in the FFA, Cable trained and broke horses, branded cattle, operated and repaired farm machinery and performed other chores in the Ranch's agriculture program.

The Boys Ranch Roundup noted that more importantly, Cable's accomplishments inspired other boys to high goals because he has only one arm.

Cable participated in all intramural sports and was a contestant in four rodeos, riding bareback on broncs and Brahma bulls.

Cable is now employed at Du-priest Datsun in Amarillo.

MVC Coaches, Officials Talk Of Unity And Stronger Image

TULSA—Missouri Valley Conference football coaches followed the lead of their new commissioner last weekend at the annual conference football coaches' press conference.

It was not only the first meeting of the press with new commissioner Mickey Holmes (recently hired from his post as assistant commissioner of the Big Eight Conference), but it was also the first public meeting at the league's new headquarters in this city. The MVC had been headquartered in Dallas until the middle of June.

Both the commissioner and the coaches talked during the press meeting of conference unity and a starting point toward a new and stronger image as a football conference. The MVC basketball program ranks
